Oil Paintings Valued at $27,905 Included in the Official Appraisal

According to an inventory and appraisal filed today in the probate department of the Superior Court, William Keith, the Berkeley artist who died recently, left an estate valued at $255,237.63. Of this amount there are $101,488.71 in cash in the hands of the executors and on deposit in San Francisco and Oakland banks.

Stocks and bonds were owned by the artist as follows:

United Railroads of San Francisco, $21,440; Southern Pacific Company, $8500; Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, $24,750; Western Pacific Railroad Company, $10,230; Spring Valley Water Company, $13,800; Pacific Gas and Electric Company, $9800; Los Angeles Pacific Railroad Company, $10,400; Great Western Power Company, $4318.05; California Electric Generating Company, $4454.86. The remainder of the securities represents other commercial paper.

The Keith studio contains 216 oil paintings, according to the inventory, valued at $27,905. The most valuable paintings are "Autumn—Lagunaris," valued at $750, and "Mount Ritter," valued at $700. The other important paintings range in value from $600 to $100, the average value being about $550.

San Jacinto Strikes Rocks; Water Logged

Vessel Towed to Save Landing After Being Damaged on Gray's Harbor Bar.

HOQUIAM, Wash., July 29.—The steamer San Jacinto, from Hoquiam for San Francisco, with lumber, ran into the rocks on the south jetty while passing out over the Gray Harbor bar this afternoon during fog. The rudder was carried away, a big hole torn in the bottom and the deck load swept overboard. The steamer Santa Monica, passing out at the same time, stood by and took off the crew save the chief engineer. The San Jacinto filled so quickly that only time for one blast of its whistle was allowed. Last night the tug Printer towed the water-logged steamer to a safe anchorage in the harbor channel.

HOUSE BRIGHTLY LIGHTED.

Mr. and Mrs. Krusl's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mills and Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Kirby. Both families came to the house in their machines. As the house was brightly lighted and the machine stood outside, it was evident to the burglar.

General Arbitration Treaty to Be Signed

U. S. Great Britain and France Will Affix Signatures to Document.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The general arbitration treaty between the United States and Great Britain, and the United States and France, will be signed in Washington next week. An announcement to this effect was made today.

After the signing of the treaty there will be a formal exchange between the governments concerned. Secretary Knox will sign the treaty for the United States.

Slight delays in the settlement of exact verbiage of the two treaties consequently have prevented the executive of the original purpose to conclude them and Secretary Knox is now bending all his efforts to have all in readiness for the signatures of plenipotentiaries next week.

Bursting of Black Hand Bomb Stuns Policeman

WASHINGTON, July 29.—An East Side policeman was stunned and temporarily blinded by the bursting of a Black Hand bomb on One Hundred and Thirteenth street early today. The policeman was passing a six-story tenement house owned by an Italian when the bomb exploded in the vestibule. The damage to the building was slight. The owner said he had received several threatening letters.

With His Shirt Flags Train And Saves 150 Passengers

BELLAFONTAINE, O., July 29.—With a shirt torn from his back, Robert Cook of DeGraff today flagged Big Four flyer No. 1 at Quincy Curve, probably saving the 150 passengers from death. Cook, while walking along the tracks discovered a broken rail. Running half a mile up the track he stopped the train.

Harriman Merger Suit To Go to Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The government will appeal to the supreme court the Harriman merger suit which was decided in favor of the railroads in the United States circuit court at St. Louis. Attorney General Wickesham today directed C. A. Severance, the government's special counsel in the case, to prepare the appeal and file it as indicated.

Excursion and Passenger on Bangor & Aroostook Meet Head-On at Depot

Five Passengers Among Victims; 14 Seriously Injured; Orders Misunderstood

GRINDSTONE, Me., July 29.—Eight persons are dead and fourteen seriously injured as the result of a head-on collision which occurred on the Bangor and Aroostook railroad station here shortly after 9 o'clock last night. The trains were a special of three light coaches containing about 150 excursionists and a regular passenger express.

Five of the dead were passengers on the excursion train. The dead included the two firemen and engineer of the special. The five passengers killed and all of the injured were in the smoking car directly behind the engine of the excursion train. Both trains were moving slowly at the time, one of them just pulling out of the station and the other moving in from siding where the trains were to have passed.

The accident appears to have been due to a misunderstanding of orders. None of the cars left the rails and the passengers on the regular train escaped with a slight shaking up.

THE DEAD.

FRANK SEDLEY, son of the cashier of the Presque Isle National Bank.

CLAUDE LOOMER, Washburn, Me.

ZERN HARRIS, Presque Isle.

FIREFMAN CALLAGHER, of the excursion train.

FIREFMAN WENTWORTH, Brewer, Me., of regular train.

F. G. GARCELON, engineer of excursion train.

DR. EUGENE PIPPS, Presque Isle.

ELIAS CLARK, Presque Isle.

GRINDSTONE, a small settlement of not more than 500 persons, with no facilities for the care of the injured. They were cared for temporarily by physicians on board the trains and early today were placed on a special train to be taken to Milinocket.

THE CONVOY JURY TO BE LOCKED UP DURING TRIAL

Possibility of Corrupt Influence Will Be Prevented; Hearing Begins Today.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—The jury in the case of former Captain of Police Michael J. Conboy on trial for the third time for the murder of Bernard Lagan, has been placed in custody until the conclusion of the trial, on the order of Judge Triducho, sitting for Judge Dunne.

To prevent the possibility of corrupt influence being brought to bear on the jury, the men who will pass on the testimony will be boarded at a hotel at the city's expense. The hearing of evidence for the prosecution began this morning.

PORTE AU PRINCE, Hayti, July 29.—The revolutionists have surrounded the city, but early today had not made an attempt to take possession. Last night fire broke out in the business district, but there was little damage and the flames were checked when the small houses had been destroyed.

The American gunboat Petrel returned today from a cruise along the western coast and reported that that region was in the hands of the revolutionists who had accepted the overtures without bloodshed.

The presence of the Haitian warship Antone de Water was without effect on public sentiment, which is strongly against the government.

The Haytian gunboat 17 Decembre remains at Aux Cayes, the president's town, which has not fallen, as was previously reported. A few southern coast towns remain loyal.

CRUISER LEAVES.

NORFOLK, Va., July 29.—Bound for Port Au Prince to reinforce the American warships now patrolling the coast of the Haytian republic incident to the revolution, the cruiser Salem left the Virginia Capes this morning under full steam.

The Salem is one of the fleetest vessels of the navy and is under hurry orders. She is due at Port Au Prince next Tuesday.

ALBERT SECKEL WINS GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

DETROIT, July 29.—Albert Seckel of Chicago, a Princeton student who is the intercollegiate champion today captured the western amateur golf championship by defeating Robert A. Gardner of Chicago, Yale athlete and former National champion, 8 up to 7 to 6 play.

PRESIDENT'S BODYGUARD DIES OF HEART FAILURE

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Martin O'Brien, for 18 years one of the guards at the White House and for the last two years known as the President's bodyguard, being stationed on the second floor of the executive mansion, just outside of the President's suite, died here last night of heart failure.

IF TIRED, RESTLESS, NERVOUS Take Horstman's Acid Phosphate. To quiet and strengthen the nerves and induce a restful sleep it is especially recommended.

TACOMA, July 29.—John Nelson Pine, aged 87, a native of Vermont who removed to California in 1850 and was a member of the pioneers' society of Humboldt county, California, died here today.

SMITH FUNERAL HELD HIGH TRIBUTE IS PAID

THE LATE FRANK S. SMITH, who was president of the San Francisco Produce Company of this city and a leading member of the Commission Merchants' Protective Association.

President of Produce Company and Esteemed Merchant Is Buried

The funeral of Frank S. Smith, president of the San Francisco Produce company of this city, and one of the leading members of the Commission Merchants' Protective Association, was held at 11 o'clock this morning from St. Joseph's church, Tenth and Peralta streets. Interment followed in the family plot at Hayward.

Smith's death occurred last Wednesday night and was due to a complication of causes, chief of which was blood-poisoning. He was 32 years of age, and had been in business in this city for the past ten years, during which time he had gained for himself an enviable reputation as a rising young business man, esteemed by his business associates and by all with whom he came in contact.

The esteem had been manifested by his election to the office of president of the association of local commission merchants, in which position he earned for himself the highest commendation for his executive ability.

The dead man is survived by a widow and one son, living at 150 Eleventh street, this city, and by five brothers—J. J. and William of San Lorenzo, Joseph of Beressa, Manuel of Mt. Eden and John of Sunol.

The engine struck the freight cars with an deafening crash, bringing the passenger coaches to an almost instantaneous stop, which shocked every passenger and, for a moment, caused almost a panic.

The travelers were soon assured that there had been no person injured, that all danger was over and, then, after a delay of about an hour, another passenger engine was procured and the delayed passengers resumed their trip to the siding.

MRS. HARRIMAN VISITS WEST ON VACATION TRIP

MRS. EDWARD H. HARRIMAN, who is in San Francisco on a vacation trip.

SLAVERS' VICTIM IS ON VERGE OF COLLAPSE

Helen Whitson Hysterically Calls on Her Mother to Protect Her.

NO ONE IS ALLOWED TO SEE THE GIRL

More Arrests in Case Will Follow, Declares Frank H. De Pue.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Sobbing hysterically, calling only for her mother, insisting that her mother protect her and stay near her always, Helen Johnson Whitson, the 17-year-old victim of a band of white slavers, rescued from her captors near Santa Cruz through the efforts of Frank H. De Pue of the state's bureau of criminal identification, is on the verge of collapse at the home of her mother, 3777 Twenty-third street. No one is allowed to see the girl, except De Pue, the mother and the members of the family.

The girl gave her story, as well as she could tell it in her physical condition, to De Pue yesterday. So far as she could she went into details of her connection with the gang who lured her from her home and held her captive in a mountain retreat far from home and out of communication with those she loved.

The details of that statement made to De Pue yesterday implicate the others in the syndicate who traffic in young girls who are mere children away from home to take their place in the hideous traffic in which they are engaged.

OUTRAGEOUS AFFAIR.

"I have just started," said De Pue yesterday evening, after a day spent in investigation of the case. "I have accomplished the return of the Whitson girl to her mother. That was the first thing I started out to do. In accomplishing that I have run against the most outrageous state of affairs that can possibly exist in a civilized community. The days of slavery I thought were over, but when things such as I have found did happen, can happen under the eyes of men and women, it is time that something was done. I am going after these people. They can't get away if my plans carry. They will not mislead by any advance information getting to them.

"I have three men in jail now. De Lorme is in jail in Stockton. Du Val is in jail, and a third man is in jail. Their prison is one from which no information will leak. Their present whereabouts will not divulge until the proper time. There will be a sensation before this case is finished.

"Du Val is not in Sacramento, where he was arrested. At present, I have no details of the facts that are necessary in this case, but the arrests have not been made.

WILL BE MORE ARRESTS.

"Yes, there are more arrests to be made and they will be important ones. To make public what I have found I have decided so far would be to put powerful weapons of defense into the hands of the men we are seeking to convict of a crime or crimes that I believe will be committed in prison bars for some time to come.

"This man Du Val is one of the underlings of the gang. He is not one of the trusted upper men in the organization. He is but 22 years of age. He is an entertainer in low resorts. He was utilized mainly to entertain Helen Whitson with his plane playing. He had given her reason to believe he had her in his place where he will not be in touch with the others of the gang. De Lorme is one of the higher-ups. He is one of the leaders and is safe during 180 days in the Stockton jail. The third man was arrested in jail, too, but the men who have him in charge know where he is, and I know where he is, and at the right time he will be charged in court.

BAUM'S ATTORNEY ASKS GOVERNOR TO INVESTIGATE

Letter Regarding the Havens Affair Sent To the Chief Executive by W. T. Hume

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Attorney W. T. Hume, acting for Alexander R. Baum, an attorney indicted for embezzlement on charges preferred by F. C. Havens, president of the Peoples Water Company of Oakland, has submitted the following letter to Governor Johnson, asking that an investigation follow:

LETTER TO GOVERNOR.

Hon. Hiram W. Johnson, Governor of the State of California, Sacramento:

Sir—I am somewhat in doubt as to whether the proper course for me to pursue is to submit the following statement to you or to the Attorney-General, but, after examination of sections 880 and 470 of the Political Code, have concluded that I could not be far wrong if I addressed you in the first instance.

In the month of June, 1911, at the instance of the agents and at the suggestion of C. H. Havens, president of the Peoples Water Company of Oakland, an investigation was instituted through the District Attorney's office of this city and county, with the object on the part of Mr. Havens to procure the indictment of Alexander R. Baum on a charge of embezzlement alleged to have been committed by the Peoples Water Company, the property of Mr. Havens, entrusted by Mr. Havens to Mr. Baum as his bailee.

Mr. Baum was indicted; whereupon Mr. Berry advised me that it would be to the interest of my client to make any and all investigations I could to discover the origin, disposal and conversion of the bonds.

Acting upon this suggestion of Mr. Berry, I instituted a search for further information, and, having pursued my investigation, to a point where I believed it proper to submit the results to the district attorney's office, I called upon Mr. Cotton, deputy district attorney, and submitted to him a written statement, a copy of which is hereto attached, marked "A," "B," "C," and explains itself.

This communication was submitted in person on the date it bears. I have had no written reply to my communication. I have, however, been advised by Mr. Cotton that the papers submitted to him by me were referred to Mr. S. M. Marks, the secretary of the Peoples Water Company, and that no action would be taken by the district attorney until word was received from Mr. Marks.

MAKES COMPLAINT.

The action of the district attorney's office is to my mind most remarkable. The refusal to investigate the charge against F. C. Havens, I know that the action of the district attorney will meet with merited rebuke.

My object in writing this letter is to lay before you the situation and ask that you may submit the matter to the attorney-general, with a request to assist the district attorney to do his duty at once or take such other action as may appear to be proper in the premises.

Respectfully asking the consideration of the request herein made, I remain, sir, yours respectfully,

W. T. HUME.

CALLED ON DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

I became aware of the investigation and with Mr. Baum called on the District Attorney's office (Meeting Mr. Berry and Mr. C. H. Nutt, both deputy district attorneys); and stated fully and fairly all facts within the knowledge of Mr. Baum concerning the deposit and disposal of or alleged conversion of the bonds, and Mr. Baum voluntarily appeared before the Grand Jury and testified freely and as to all facts within his knowledge.

Mr. Baum was indicted; whereupon Mr. Berry advised me that it would be to the interest of my client to make any and all investigations I could to discover the origin, source, and if such is the reason for a refusal to investigate the charge against F. C. Havens, I know that the action of the district attorney will meet with merited rebuke.

My object in writing this letter is to lay before you the situation and ask that you may submit the matter to the attorney-general, with a request to assist the district attorney to do his duty at once or take such other action as may appear to be proper in the premises.

Respectfully asking the consideration of the request herein made, I remain, sir, yours respectfully,

W. T. HUME.

GRASS FIRE SWEEPS OVER HUNDREDS OF ACRES

Clover Creek Ranch, Owned by E. A. Heron, Threatened by Flames Despite Efforts of Many Men

ELMHURST, July 29.—One of the most disastrous grass fires in the history of this section was started this morning on the Silva ranch on the Foothill boulevard at the end of Eighty-second avenue. Mrs. Charles Silva was burning rags in the yard, and after going into the house saw smoke issuing from the bank of the creek close by. A fire alarm was rung and responded to by the Monroe and Foothill fire departments. Before the fire fighters reached the scene the flames had spread over several hundred acres, working directly north of the Foothill boulevard.

The fire department under Assistant McGrath, made a vain effort to pump water from the bed of Clover creek, but abandoned the effort. The fire fighters are now concentrating their efforts to saving the Clover Creek ranch, which is threatened.

MRS. SILVA COLLAPSES.

Mrs. Silva is in a state of collapse at her home and cannot give any details of the affair.

In spite of this evidence, the family and R. H. Gipps, the dead girl's intimate friend, refuse to accept the suicide theory and declare it their belief that she met her death through violence.

Others state, however, that she had become despondent over the marks left on her face by "beauty doctors."

Foul Play Theory Scouted by Officers

Autopsy Over Body of May Ilg Reveals Death By Drowning.

RELATIVES STICK TO OPPOSITE VIEWS

Declare Unfortunate San Francisco Girl Met End Through Violence.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—That the body of a girl found at Pebble Beach on the Marin county shore last Thursday afternoon was the remains of Miss May Gertrude Ilg was fully established yesterday and preparations are now being made for the funeral, which will be held next Monday morning from the Church of the Holy Redeemer, Eighteenth and Collingwood streets, where they will be removed from the family home, 164 Hartford street, at 8:30 o'clock in the morning. Interment will be private in Holy Cross cemetery.

The aged father and mother of Miss Ilg were not notified of the finding of their daughter's body until yesterday, when the identification had been made complete. The remains were taken to a Valencia street undertaking parlor later in the day.

SUICIDE IS CLAIMED.

That the young woman met her death by suicide and not through violence was the verdict of the physicians who held the post mortem examination in San Rafael and also the opinion of the coroner and his deputies.

Beyond the belief of the waves and marks made by contact with rocks and pebbles along the shore there were serious abrasions on the body and all the internal organs were found to be in condition with the exception of the lungs and heart, the lungs being filled with water, showing that death had occurred in that manner, while the heart was greatly congested, bearing out the evidence.

A new theory as to how the body got to Bolinas bay developed yesterday when it was learned that an ark, belonging to W. H. Towner, had been towed from Sausalito Tuesday by Captain Lewis. It is possible that the body had caught on hooks and lines driven into the stern of the ark and clung to it in the stream through the Golden Gate and past the heads.

THEORY BORNE OUT.

The theory is borne out by the fact that last Monday night passengers of the Ferry Requa declared that they saw the body of a woman floating not far outside of the Sausalito ferry slip. Although a search was made by the police boat Patrol, it could not be found later and as the ark was anchored not far away, it may have drifted in that direction and become attached to the stern. In spite of this evidence, the family and R. H. Gipps, the dead girl's intimate friend, refuse to accept the suicide theory and declare it their belief that she met her death through violence. Others state, however, that she had become despondent over the marks left on her face by "beauty doctors."

TODAY IN CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, July 29.—SENATOR Not in session. Lorimer election investigation continued.

HOUSE: Met at noon.

Senate on the cotton tariff revision bill continued in the House today. No agreement for a vote on the measure was reached, but Democratic Leader Underwood has insisted on the vote being taken not later than next Thursday.

BOILER DID BLOW UP.

ALGONA, Iowa, July 29.—"If the boiler blows up I'll get up with it." As these words left the lips of Leonard Hart, a traction engineer living near here yesterday, the boiler of a threshing engine on which he was working exploded, tearing his body to fragments and fatally injuring Frank Meyers.

Hart had been warned that the high pressure would result in an explosion.

SPAIN WILL DRIVE MONARCHISTS AWAY

Preparations for Raid, Now Being Made in Galicia, Will Be Stopped.

MADRID PROMISES TO AID NEIGHBOR

Guard on Border Between the Countries Will Be Increased.

LISBON, July 29.—Spain is taking measures to break up the monarchic preparation in Galicia, Spain, which are being made against the republic of Portugal and, as the Portuguese government now believes, will endeavor in good faith to disperse the monarchist recruits, confiscate their supplies or arms and prevent any organized raid into Portugal.

Foreign Minister Macado stated today that these assurances had been received from the Spanish government and added:

"Spain, for some time considered the Portuguese monarchists in Spain near the border as inoffensive persons seeking an asylum from their own country. Now Spain is convinced that these refugees are planning hostilities against the republic, thus misusing the privileges of the asylum."

"Whenever the Portuguese are found near the frontier they are ordered by the government to remove to the interior of Spain."

GUARD INCREASED:

"The civil guard on the Galician boundary has been increased by about 1000 men and is co-operating with the Portuguese troops against persons who cannot satisfactorily explain their reasons for crossing the line."

Replying to an inquiry as to why it was thought necessary to have 1000 Portuguese troops on the northern frontier, which further reinforcements are being sent out, the minister said that the government was determined to cut off all irregular communication and separate the conspirators without from the conspirators within the republic.

Asked how long the newspaper correspondents who have gathered here from other countries would have to wait probably for the projected invasion, Senator Macado replied with some feeling:

"If you wait for that you will die here. The monarchists have no program and do not represent national aspiration. The monarchy is dead. Portugal has had enough of the select unfit."

FATHER KENNEDY SPEAKS TO Y. L. I.

Counsels New Officers as to the Duties of the Order.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Rev. Father Kennedy made an address yesterday before the convention of the Young Ladies' Institute, counseling the new officers as to their duties and exhorting all members to remember the letter and spirit in which the order was established. These remarks were made at an opportune time between the ceremonies of election and installation.

The day's principal business was the election of grand officers. Mrs. Marie Haggerty of Sacramento being placed in the chair as grand president, as was predicted. The others were Miss M. J. Dillon of Seattle, grand marshal; Mrs. Margaret Peacock, first grand vice-president; Miss Nellie Grant of Stockton, second grand vice-president.

GUITTARD FACES CHARGE OF FRAUD

Coffee Company's Stockholders Seek Injunction and Accounting.

Charging that H. Guittard has by fraud and force taken the San Francisco Coffee Company out of business without holding any interest in the concern and has assumed the management, W. E. Pal French, A. B. Holmes, F. W. Grayson, E. J. Giesen and E. Van Winkle, appearing as stockholders, brought suit yesterday in the Superior Court for an injunction and accounting. The ask that Guittard be enjoined from further acting as manager or collecting accounts, that a bill of sale which is alleged to have been the means of giving Guittard control of the business be declared void and that documents be produced to account to them for all the money that has come into his hands.

The complaint sets forth that Guittard induced the stockholders to allow him to make a bill of sale of the company's property and business to the "Dome Coffee Company" on the representation that the latter concern would assume about 15% of the stockholders and discharge the obligation and that the stockholders in the San Francisco Coffee Company would become shareholders in the Dome. It is further charged that there never was any such concern as the "Dome Coffee Company," that the indebtedness has not been paid and that the defendant is looking after the interests of the stockholders in Guittard in the interest of his own personal benefit and control the San Francisco Coffee Company, and has collected and retained money owing to the latter concern.

STRIKE AT HOE PLANT IS EXPECTED TO END

NEW YORK, July 29.—Officers of the International Association of Machinists were authority for the statement today that the strike of machinists at the printing press plant of R. Hoe & Co. would be settled during the next twenty-four hours. The strike was for an eight-hour workday. After a long series of conferences between representatives of the strikers and the firm, the original proposition of the firm to shorten gradually the workday by taking off a number of hours at intervals until the eight-hour day is reached, will probably be reached, with certain modifications.

AWAIT OPINION ON $200 SALARY FOR SUPERVISORS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Pending an opinion by the City Attorney on the question as to whether the members of the present Board of Supervisors are entitled to draw $200 a month salary under the charter amendments increasing their pay from $100, the officials interested will meet in two $100 monthly demands for each month, and one of these the auditor will approve, while the other will be held up until the point involved is settled.

MISS RUTH MILLS TO BE BRIDE OF PASADENA MAN

WHEELER ON TOUR WITH PACK TRAIN

U. C. President and Family Are Traveling in Sierra Nevada Mountains.

President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California, Mrs. Wheeler, son, Benjamin Webb Wheeler, and Professor and Mrs. Adolph C. Miller are making a tour of the high Sierra Nevada mountains with a pack train. Worth Ryder, the artist, an old university man, whose long association with the California mountains has made him an expert mountaineer, is acting as guide.

The route of the party will include the basin of the Upper Kings River, Paradise Valley, Rea lake and the high divides overlooking the Owens river valley.

Camping out is a new experience to most of the members of the party, who are enthusiastic about life in the open air.

Dr. Wheeler and his party met Ryder at Kanawha in Kings River canyon, where the artist has been making a number of mountain paintings this summer.

EXPOSITION TAX BEING PREPARED

MISS RUTH MILLS, niece of the late D. O. Mills.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—A wedding has been arranged and will shortly be solemnized between Paul Fink Youngling of Pasadena and Miss Ruth Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Easton Mills of San Luis Obispo.

Youngling is prominent in business circles and popular in social life of Los Angeles and Pasadena, while the bride-to-be is a charming young graduate of Hollywood College and a niece of the late D. O. Mills and a cousin of Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, wife of the United States Ambassador to Great Britain.

The announcement of the engagement has created quite a flutter in the society of the Southland, and the wedding, which will probably take place in September, will be a social event of the season.

SUPPOSED DEAD SON IS ALIVE

Youth Appears as Mother Is Preparing to Have unidentified Body Disinterred.

ST. LOUIS, July 29.—Mrs. Minnie Grimes of Oklahoma, who has been in St. Louis three weeks attempting to identify the body of a youth as that of her son, Floyd McCune, 19 years old, from whom she had not heard in almost a year, has received a telegram from Oklahoma City saying he is with his stepfather and well.

Mrs. Grimes was preparing to have the body of a youth who was crushed to death in a car of lumber four months ago disinterred when she got the telegram.

The message ended a search that had extended from coast to coast. The boy was last heard from in Bakersfield, Cal.

COOK & SON'S MANAGER IS DEAD IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, July 29.—Geo. E. Ade, well-known in railway and steamship circles in all parts of the United States and abroad, as manager of Thomas Cook and Son, is dead at his home here after an illness of several months. He was born in London in 1851, and was for some time in the service of the White Star Line at Liverpool. In 1890 he came to this country as manager of the Cooks' business in the United States and Canada. He was a member of many clubs and societies.

FLAG ON CUSTOMS HOUSE.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—The Stars and Stripes floated over the new custom house building yesterday by order of the collector, who was very much surprised when he learned that one of his employees had neglected to fly the flag according to regulations. The building is high with a flat roof and the flag can be seen only at a distance, otherwise the absence of the national emblem would have been noticed before.

WORTH $300,000; ISSUES BAD CHECK

Fugitive Who Signed Worthless Draft for $125 Caught After Two Years.

HOQUIAM, Wash., July 29.—Frank H. Carr, of Pauls Valley, Okla., whose property is valued at $300,000, has been released from the county jail at Montesano, where he has been held for the last three months under the name of Henry Clay, facing a charge of issuing a worthless draft for $125 on a Texas bank, which he induced the land board to a local laundry to endorse.

The draft came back marked "No funds," and Carr disappeared. He was finally captured in Crescent City, Cal.

The message ended a search that had extended from coast to coast. The boy was last heard from in Bakersfield, Cal.

Norman Pruitt, a prominent attorney of Oklahoma City, secured Carr's release on a $500 bond and the settlement of his debts, and the two left for Carr's home.

ILLINOIS G. O. P. OPENS PRIMARY FIGHT TONIGHT

CHICAGO, July 29.—The Illinois Republican primary fight will be started tonight with the opening of the so-called "Merriam Progressive campaign," in East St. Louis, Ill.

Walter Clyde Jones of Chicago, candidate for the nomination for governor, will make his "keynote" speech, and Charles E. Merriam, late Republican candidate for mayor of Chicago, will deliver an address on "Progressive Principles."

TO BUILD SUBMARINES.

SEATTLE, July 29.—Contracts for the construction of two submarines from the government of Chile have been awarded to the Moran Company of Seattle. The destroyers will be delivered to Chile within a year and will cost approximately $1,000,000.

CHICAGO PEDDLERS CALL OFF STRIKE

Strikers Heed Demand of Congressman Sabath to Avoid Violence.

CHICAGO, July 29.—The peddlers have voted to call off the strike against the city ordinance which prohibits them from carrying out their wares. The vote was taken last night after the hundreds who had jammed the hall had listened to speeches counseling peace from Congressman A. J. Sabath and others. The decision affects approximately 1500 peddlers.

The situation that confronts you, said Congressman Sabath, "is one that you can best cope with by creating a sentiment that will demand the council to repeat its unfair and unjust anti-nuisance ordinance. Violence will get you nothing. It is destruction, vestige of hope for having the law repealed."

"I counsel you to go back to work. When the council meets I will move heaven and earth to see that the law is repealed."

BRITISH CABINET TO BE CHANGED

Rearrangement Is Predicted When the Veto Bill Has Been Passed.

LONDON, July 29.—There will be an entire rearrangement of the Cabinet when the veto bill has been passed, according to the statement of a London paper. Whether the actual reshuffle will be quite so drastic as is forecasted remains to be seen, but it is known that both Viscount Morley, Lord President of the Council, and the Earl of Crewe, Secretary of State for India, are anxious to throw off the harness on the score of illness.

The paper asserts that War Secretary Haldane and Augustine, Chief Secretary for Ireland, also give up their portfolios. Acting-Governor Sir Robert Maxwell is going to the Upper House as a Law Lord, and Home Secretary Churchill, according to the statement, is slated for the Irish Secretariat, and Lieutenant-Colonel John E. B. Seeley, the Under-Secretary of War, for the head of that ministry.

"The situation that confronts you, said Congressman Sabath, "is one that you can best cope with by creating a sentiment that will demand the council to repeat its unfair and unjust anti-nuisance ordinance. Violence will get you nothing. It is destruction, vestige of hope for having the law repealed."

HITCHES WIFE UP WITH MULE

Woman Says Husband Beat Her When She Stumbled in Drawing Harrow.

KANSAS CITY, July 29.—Because her husband hitched her to a harrow beside a team of mules, and drove her around a corn field a number of times, Mrs. La Fayette Chaot, wife of a prosperous farmer living near Birmingham, Mo., appealed to a juvenile court for the custody of their two sons, 4 and 6 years old.

Chaot declared that her husband had been driving her around the field with the mules for four months, while waiting for the state appointment.

"We had expected to call upon the county superintendents at about the same time as usual this year," said Hyatt, "but acting upon advices received from the state controller, I have decided to call upon them for reports by August 15 if possible."

DON'T BE BALD

Almost Any One May Secure a Splendid Growth of Hair.

You can easily find out for yourself if your hair needs nourishment. If it is thinning, getting dry, harsh and brittle, or splitting at the ends. You simply have to pull a hair from the top of your head and closely examine its root. If the bulb is plump and rosy it is all right; if it is flat and shrunken your hair is damaged and needs nourishment.

We have a remedy for hair troubles that cannot be surpassed. It has a record of growing hair and curing baldness in 83 out of 100 cases where used, according to directions for a reasonable length of time. It will even grow hair on bald heads if the scalp is not glazed and shiny. That may seem like a strong statement—it is, and we mean it to be, and no one should doubt it until they have put our claims to an actual test.

We are so sure that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will completely eradicate dandruff, prevent baldness, stimulate the scalp and hair roots, stop falling hair and grow new hair, that we personally give our positive guarantee to refund every penny paid us for Rexall "93" Hair Tonic in every instance where it does not do as we claim or fails to give entire satisfaction to the user.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is as pleasant to use as clear spring water. It is perfumed with a pleasant odor, and does not grease or gum the hair. We have it in two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1. We urge you to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic on our recommendation and with our guarantee back of it. You certainly take no risk. SAN LEANDRO, July 29.—The funeral of Lawrence Bartlett, of this place, a member of Lyon Post, G. A. R., of Oakland, was held from St. Leander's church this morning.

Rev. Fether Garver.

The ceremonies were largely attended by relatives and friends of the deceased, among them being members of the G. A. R. floral offerings were numerous. Interment was in St. Mary's cemetery, Oakland.

Bartlett was one of the oldest residents of the city, having come to it in 1850 and crossed the plains in '49. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Bartlett and six children, Lawrence and Emma Bartlett, of San Leandro; Thomas Bartlett, of W. Kimball; Mrs. H. Bailey and Mrs. W. F. Murray, all of San Francisco.

LARGE CHURCH CHOIR
FORMED IN RICHMOND

RICHMOND, July 29.—The congregation of the Wesley Methodist Episcopal church has completed arrangements for the formation of a church choir. The new choir is to contain some thirty-six voices, both male and female, and the plans include special programs of sacred music for the Sunday evening services with a monthly concert.

Officers to direct the choir were named as follows:

Choir leader, I. L. Dearborn; secretary, J. R. Leverage; organist, Miss Ruth Glover; treasurer, Miss Annie Smith.

OAKLAND'S BOYS AND GIRLS

BOY SCOUTS HOME
AFTER TRIP TO MILL VALLEY

Twenty-five boy scouts of the First Presbyterian church of this city returned last evening from a trip to Mill Valley, where they tramped many miles and gave demonstrations of the scout drills.

Refreshed by a vacation of six weeks the boys will register in the various schools Monday morning and enjoy weekly trips to the hills of Alameda county. L. N. Brasfield, chief scout-master of the patrols of the First Presbyterian church, has directed all their excursions and will continue to do so during school term.

The scouts are looking forward to the athletic field meet to be held in Bushrod Park playground August 26, when the scouts of this county will take part in the sports.

FOLK DANCES GIVEN
AT DE FREMERY PARK

An impromptu program of folk-dancing and songs were given yesterday afternoon by the girls of De Fremery Park playground, under the direction of Miss Hazel Bell, who is supervising the play in the absence of Miss Helen Channing. The residents of the De Fremery Park district attended the entertainment, which was a success. It marked the last function to be given by the children prior to the opening of school.

Remedies are Needed

We are perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glycerine compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For Weak Stomach, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Pains in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

MARE ISLAND NOTES

MARE ISLAND, July 29.—The gunboat Yorktown arrived here yesterday from Central American waters. Commander Levi C. Bertellett is expected to arrive within two days from the Bremerton Naval Yard. Commander Edwin A. Anderson as commanding officer. Anderson has been ordered east.

Captain John M. Elliott, who recently took command of the vessel Maryland, has been unable to complete his test and may have to retire. The officers say that Captain Elliott's hearing is affected and when he came up for examination it was noted that he would have to undergo treatment. He has gone to the state of Washington.

The Independence, the oldest ship in the navy, to be converted into a gunboat, has been given a new lease of life.

The historic old frigate is now stationed here as a receiving ship, and following a storm of protest arising from the announcement of its decommissioning, was ordered to leave from Washington that for the time at least the vessel will not be sold.

It is understood a reserve cruiser fleet is to be formed, to consist of vessels like the old battleship Oregon and the high-class armored cruisers St. Louis, Milwaukee and Charleston.

TRADES COUNCIL
ELECTS OFFICERS

Richmond Unions Name Edward M. Hasey as President.

RICHMOND, July 29.—The local Business Trades Council elected the following officers at its last meeting: President, Edward M. Hasey; vice-president, Geo. Miner; recording secretary, Fred Eggerth; financial secretary, Frank Roper; treasurer, J. C. Thornton; business agent, J. O. Dahl.

The election for the last office was the bone of contention at the meeting, the leading candidate for the position being Levi Boswell, who has held the office for some time past. Dahl, the new officer, is a member of the Lathers' Union.

During the meeting plans for completing the new Labor Temple on Fourth street were discussed. The recent benefit ball held by the Council realized a substantial sum to assist with the finishing and equipping of the temple. During the coming week it is hoped to have the plastering work on the building completed, and it is planned to hold the christening celebration at the regular meeting two weeks hence.

Richmond News

RICHMOND, July 29.—Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Hill arrived home yesterday from their vacation trip spent at Portland, Seattle and various other points in the northern coast states.

The Misses Pearl and Gladys Hinman of Middletown, Lake county, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hoerst the first of the week.

Work on the new Hawley business block on Hayward avenue is steadily going on. The brick work is about completed and the iron is now being put on. The iron will consist of three storerooms, one Mrs. L. C. Stockford.

Mrs. E. A. Whiting of San Francisco visited Mrs. Stockford Tuesday.

Mr. Charles Reid returned the first of the week from a trip to Sacramento.

County Assessor C. F. Horner has appointed George A. Oakes of Hayward, as transcript clerk, and John Smith of the same place as field deputy of Eden township. The position of cashier, held by A. A. Aitken of San Leandro, under the former assessor, is now being filled by Charles Riser of Ceterville.

J. H. Miller, former manager of the San Leandro Boys' Club, returned from a trip to Los Angeles with the Columbia Park Boys' Club this week, and was a visitor here Tuesday.

Lester Katt and Morris Shanahan, two young boys who were reported to the police by their parents as missing from their homes in this city, were later found in the attic of an old barn in the Santa Fe district. Officer McHale found the two lads and returned them to their parents.

The Onetah tribe of Red Men entertained the members of the order and their friends last night at Bank hall with a social dance.

Mrs. C. E. Bennett and son Charles returned home Thursday after spending three weeks of ranch life at Vacaville.

AFF'S ACTION ON WOOL BILL IS STILL A PUZZLE

Speaker Champ Clark Says He Thinks President Will Sign Measure as It Comes Out of Conference

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Democratic leaders in Congress were still wondering today whether the President would sign or veto the wool bill, the crucial measure in the Democratic-Insurgent Republican campaign for wider revision of the tariff. Despite the determination to veto the bill, accredited to the President by those who have conferred with him, Democratic leaders today expressed the opinion that he would approve the measure. Speaker Clark is one of those who believe the President will sign the bill, despite all published reports to the contrary.

FREE LIST BILLS.

"I believe," said the speaker today, "that the Senate and House conferees will get together on wool and I hope and believe that the President will sign such a bill as may be agreed on in the conference. I believe that the Senate will pass the first bill, and I hope we will have amendments and I hope it will pass the other tariff schedules."

"The House is absolutely opposed to the wool tariff bill as it passed the Senate," said Democratic Leader Underwood today. "There is no possibility of that bill being agreed to by the House. As to what the outcome of a conference will be, if we have a conference I cannot say. The House bill was written after considerable concession had been made on both sides, and the members who supported it are not disposed to change it in any important features."

220 VOTE FOR BILL.

Should the President veto the final conference wool bill the Democratic leaders will bring it up again, as to whether the bill can be passed by the House over the President's veto.

The Underwood bill passed the House on June 20 by a vote of 220 to 100. But to pass over two-thirds of the House membership 221, must vote for the bill. This would be forty-one more than went on record for the original bill in the House. There is nothing so far to warrant counting on the number of any bill added at that time.

House Democrats express the view today that if the President is to veto a wool bill they would prefer to have him veto a Democrat bill rather than an Insurgent Republican-Democratic compromise measure.

It is clear today that the House will not be in a hurry to ask for a conference. The Senate wool bill, when it is taken up in the House next week, will be promptly rejected and sent back to the Senate. It will remain for that body to ask for a conference committee. In the meantime the general temper of the Democrats of the House is being tested by the leaders. Many Democrats are urging conciliation and compromise with the idea of forcing Taft to pass upon a wool tariff bill at all.

Representative Hull of Tennessee, Democrat, said the Republican party's attitude toward the tariff. "I desire," he said, "to brand this latest tariff board device as premeditated hypocrisy and aggravated false pretense." He contended that the board was a "political life-line" to delay tariff revision.

SCORES REPUBLICANS.

"I shall recount certain facts," said Hull, "proving beyond controversy, first, that the Republican party never, in all the years people memory can go back, has ever will do so, and second, that this same party has always bluntly, sneeringly and contemptuously dismissed the suggestion of the creation of a tariff board or commission save at such times as it sought to delay honest tariff revision, and at the same time to avert pending political disaster."

Denouncing the Payne-Aldrich law as an "abominable iniquity and ghastly abortion," Hull said that when it was passed each lobbyist in delight departed, saying:

"I care not for the stars that shine, I only know that I've got mine."

LORIMER FAVORED BY DEMOCRATS, IS TESTIMONY

Lawrence B. Stringer Takes Stand in Senatorial Investigation of Illinois Solon's Election

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Lawrence B. Stringer, a Democratic candidate in opposition of William Lorimer at the time the latter was elected by the Illinois legislature, testified before the Senate committee today that Lorimer and Speaker Shurtleff were the Republicans most popular with the Democrats in that legislative session.

From the time it was first rumored that Lorimer would become a candidate, the witness said, the common talk in Springfield was that Lorimer would get Democratic votes if he went into the race.

"Hoping was more bitterly opposed by the Democrats than any Republican of prominence in the state," said Stringer, in speaking of the winner in the 1908 Republican senatorial primaries.

Senator Johnston took an unusual interest in the long list of Democrats who received complimentary votes during the meeting of the legislature in 1909.

NO BOURBON SAFE.

"No Democrat of prominence was safe from a complimentary vote?" inquired the senator.

"What is about true?" replied Stringer.

Senator Kern led the witness to break down much of the favorable testimony which Stringer had given in behalf of Lorimer.

"Was it generally understood that Senator Lorimer stood for the good things or the things that were not good?" asked Senator Kern.

"I think it was the general impression that Senator Lorimer was of the school of politicians that adopt the policy of winning the elections," replied Stringer.

This answer did not satisfy Senator Kern.

GOVERNOR OFFERS $500 REWARD FOR SLAYERS

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 29.—Governor Cruce today offered a reward of $500 for the capture of the slayer of Ray Boatright. Boatright was killed and his wife was shot and attacked while walking the session by Germany of the whole or part of Togoland, the German colonial possession on the Gulf of Guinea, between the British Gold Coast country and Congo Colony.

Owing to the recent death of the father of the bride, the wedding was simple. There were no guests and only the nearest friends of the couple and relatives were informed that the nuptial knots were tied.

MORGAN IS BRANDED 'ANGEL'

Ledyard Declares Firm of Moore and Schley Owed Money to Financier

Brands as Outrage Insinuation That Steel Corporation Engineered Attack

NEW YORK, July 29.—That the brokerage firm of Moore and Schley that was saved from ruin in 1907 through the purchase of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company by the United States Steel Corporation, owed money to J. P. Morgan and Company which was secured by Tennessee Coal and Iron stock as collateral, was today revealed to the steel trust investigating committee by Lewis Cass Ledyard.

Representative Littleton asked Ledyard about the nature of Moore and Schley's loans. He mentioned several and then said:

"The firm of J. P. Morgan and Company has loaned the firm considerable money."

"Was it secured by Tennessee Coal and Iron stock?" asked Littleton.

"Yes, it was, but the Morgan firm had never bothered Moore and Schley and did not call the loan."

Following his statement about the Morgan loan, Ledyard denounced the financiers that have been made concerning a conspiracy in Tennessee transaction.

"There never was a more infamous outrage than the suggestion that has been made that either Morgan or the United States Steel Corporation brought about, engineered or inspired an attack on the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company. Such a thing is absolutely false."

DEFENDS ABSORPTION.

Ledyard made a defense of the absorption of the Tennessee company, and said he never saw anything illegal in it. He said:

"Since the recent decisions of our learned chief justices I am more than ever convinced that it was not illegal."

"I am a simple man," Ledyard continued, "and if the administration is going to see fit to attack corporations when they seek to do a meritorious and useful thing such as the steel corporation did in this case, I can see no reason why the corporation should not go to the government in advance of such an event and tell it what it intends to do."

Ledyard told of a conversation he had had with J. P. Morgan about the Tennessee transaction.

"I think it was Sunday while the deal was being planned," he said, "that Morgan told me this: 'Really, I don't know what is going to happen. I can think of nothing so serious as the possible failure of Moore and Schley. I am very much afraid that this proposed deal will not go through.' I asked him if he was going to urge it through, and he said: 'I will not urge it and will not insist on it.'

LEDYARD ON STAND.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Lewis Cass Ledyard, counsel for Oliver Payne, who was one of the syndicate which formerly owned the Tennessee Coal and Iron company, told the Stanley steel trust investigating committee that his client, Payne, was the first to suggest the acquisition of the Tennessee company by the United States Steel Corporation in 1907.

Ledyard declared that he never represented the Tennessee company in the negotiations leading up to that transaction nor did he ever act as counsel for the firm of Moore & Schley or Grant B. Schley of that firm.

"I never knew there was a syndicate," said Ledyard, "when this matter first came to my attention."

Ledyard told the committee at the outset that he was the first man to inform J. P. Morgan of the threatening condition of the brokerage firm of Moore & Schley because of excessive loans in Tennessee stocks and that he asked Morgan on request of Payne to seek to have the United States Steel corporation come to Moore & Schley's rescue.

OGLEBAY TESTIFIES.

E. W. Oglebay, of Cleveland, testified today. Oglebay is a practical steel man and was a member of the syndicate which formerly owned the Tennessee company and others who took over the Tennessee's manufacturing and ore properties in 1905. He was induced, he said, to go into the syndicate by Hanna, his lifelong friend. His narrative of the starting of the property as a competitor of the United States Steel Corporation for two years corroborated the story related yesterday by Hanna.

At the time of the panic in 1907, when the New York brokerage firm of Moore & Schley was in trouble because of excessive loans on Tennessee Coal and Iron stock as collateral, Oglebay was called to New York and participated in conferences leading up to the absorption of the Tennessee Company by the United States Steel Corporation. He declared that the sale was made to him opinion that the sale was made to avert a financial crash.

PEACE IN SIGHT ACROSS THE SEA

Franco-German Controversy Is Thought to Be Near the End.

PARIS, July 29.—Confidence that the Franco-German controversy will reach a peaceful solution increases daily. It is understood that the negotiations at the present are concerned with fixing what part of French Congo France is willing to cede in return for German disinterestedness in Morocco and possibly the session by Germany of the whole or part of Togoland, the German colonial possession on the Gulf of Guinea, between the British Gold Coast country and Congo Colony.

FAMOUS OLD GRAND OPERA TO HAVE NEW HOME

Structure to Be Equal of Any In the United States.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—There now seems to be a definite prospect for the early construction in this city of a grand opera-house that shall be the equal of any to be found in the United States. This is a project which had been discussed before the great disaster of 1908 and now seems near realization.

Warden White appeared before the committee and said that $500 was imperatively needed to pay salary demands for the current month. Kelly wanted to know why the health board was adding employees to the payroll without money to pay them. Over the corresponding month of last year the salary roll had jumped $200.

The committee allowed the $35,000 requested by the city engineer to cover the cost of preparing data on the city's water supply sources to be submitted to the federal board of army engineers now engaged in an investigation of that matter.

Auditor Boyle has suggested to the supervisors that they split their salary demands into two $100 demands for the present, and some adjudication had been had, their right to demand the term of office to receive the increase to $200 per month granted at the last charter amendment election.

The matter was discussed informally by the finance committee and this will probably be the course pursued.

WILL ADD TO FUND.

Now that the exposition site has been decided and the grand opera-house has been designated as a part of the great plan, it is expected that this $1,000,000 which had been assured for the opera-house will be practically an addition to the millions already at the command of the exposition company.

As it happens, I. W. Hellman Jr., who one of the members of the grand opera-house committee of three, is also the chairman of the committee which formulated the adopted plan for the exposition site. In speaking of this part of the plan yesterday he said:

"When the report of the site committee was written I had thought that it might be possible to construct the auditorium and the grand opera-house on one building.

But it seems that it will be impossible to secure the best results in this way.

MAY USE OLD PLAN.

"While I do not wish to be understood as speaking officially as a director of the exposition company in this matter, it seems to me that the better way will be to have the auditorium, or convention hall, built by the exposition company, and to leave the opera-house to be constructed independently of the exposition funds, and as we had planned last fall.

"If this is done, it might be wise to locate the opera-house near the auditorium, making it a part of the proposed civic center at the junction of Market street and Van Ness avenue.

"Mr. Bourn and Mr. Crocker are not in town at the present time, but it had been our intention to take up the grand opera-house plan on their return, and when the selection of the exposition site should leave us all greater freedom to give our time and attention to the details of the plan, which was already in very good shape."

KEY LOST, MARTINELLI CALLS FIRE DEPARTMENT

SAN RAFAEL, July 29.—Senator E. B. Martinelli had to call out the local fire department in order to get out of his key. When 9 o'clock arrived he found that he had lost his keys. Every locksmith in town was busy.

Rather than wait an hour or two Martinelli rushed to the firehouse and explained the situation to Captain Kane. The apparatus was sent out and the big extension ladder was soon against the Martinelli window in the upper floor of the Law building.

The round colon then began an imitation of a grizzly bear clawing his way up a redwood tree. Every one enjoyed it except the Senator. The firemen are all smoking perfectos.

PLAN OPENING OF 16 NEW POSTAL BANKS

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Preparations are being made by the Postoffice department to open postal savings banks in postoffices of the first class in August. Postmaster General Hitchcock today designated sixteen offices in ten states to be postal depositories. They will begin operations on August 8. The offices selected include Tucson, Ariz.

Commencing August 1, No. 87, the Fresno and Livermore passenger, which usually ran between Niles, Calif., and the Martinez route, arriving Oakland pier at 7:30 a. m. instead of 8 a. m., as formerly. No. 89, San Jose-Niles-Hayward passenger, via Livermore, San Jose, 12:30 p. m., instead of 1:30 p. m. The train will arrive at Oakland pier at 1:30 p. m. instead of 7:45 a. m. as formerly. No. 43 will leave Livermore 2:45 p. m., running via Livermore and Ayala, arriving Oakland pier at 4:27 p. m., instead of 4:45 p. m. The case was continued to Monday.

STANDARD BRINGS IN ANOTHER BIG GUSHER

BAKERSFIELD, July 29.—The Standard Oil Company has brought in a gusher in the Buena Vista hills, the land of the famous gassers. The Standard's well on the southeast quarter of section 26, 31-23, and was brought in Wednesday as a $300 to $500-barrel well.

The well is a mile northeast of the Standard's pump station between the Honolulu Consolidated's gasser on section 4, 22-24, and the Standard's gassers on 26, 31-23.

The drill went through the sand at 2450 feet and the well is finished with 4½-inch pipe, the oil testing 25.4 gravity.

Editor and actress wed.

SEATTLE, July 29.—Miss Daphne Trotter, better known as Daphne Pollard, a young actress widely known on the Pacific coast and in Australia, and Elington S. Bunch, assistant city editor of the Seattle Times, were married in this city yesterday, and sailed at once on the steamship President to Los Angeles, where they will spend their honeymoon. Mrs. Bunch was queen of the Golden Gate held last week.

Rev. William Barton, author, to preach here.

The August number of the Ladies' Home Journal, which is just out, contains a notable article entitled "A Church Where No Sermons Are Preached." It tells the romantic story of a woman's dream and an artist's life-work. The artist toiled for years and completed his task last January, dying almost immediately afterward. The article is written by Rev. William E. Barton, who preaches on Sunday, July 30, in the First Congregational Church in Oakland.

HEALTH BOARD GIVEN SCORING

Chairman Kelly Grills Members for Running Ahead of Allowance.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—The board of health, in running ahead of its monthly allowance, brought a grilling from Chairman Kelly of the finance committee of the Board of Supervisors yesterday.

Warden White appeared before the committee and said that $500 was imperatively needed to pay salary demands for the current month. Kelly wanted to know why the health board was adding employees to the payroll without money to pay them. Over the corresponding month of last year the salary roll had jumped $200.

JEWISH SOCIETY TO BE FORMED

Hebrew Chautauqua Headquarters Will Be Established.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Headquarters of the Jewish Chautauqua Society for the Pacific coast are to be established in San Francisco. The plan will be carried into effect in the course of the national convention of the organization in this city from August 4 to 8, inclusive.

The Jewish Chautauqua Society was founded in 1895, with national headquarters in Philadelphia. The coming convention will be the first to be held on the coast.

Rabbi Martin A. Meyer is chairman of the local committee which is in charge of arrangements for entertaining the delegates. The other members of the committee are: Rabbi M. S. Levy, Rabbi M. Friedlander of Oakland, Mrs. M. C. Sloss, Mrs. M. S. Kosland, Mrs. Louis Hertz, Mrs. Julius Kahn, A. L. Sapir, O. I. Wise, E. S. Heller, H. Weinstock, S. Weiskopf, Dr. William C. Voorsanger.

The convention will open with services next Friday evening in Temple Emanuel El, Rabbi Meyer officiating.

MISSING OAKLAND MAN IS FOUND

Thomas McGivney is at San Francisco Hostelry Under Physician's Care.

The mystery which surrounded the disappearance of Thomas McGivney, an aged man who lived alone at 111 Fifteenth street last Monday evening, was cleared today when his granddaughter, Miss Grace McGivney received a letter from the proprietor of the Ferry House, 48 East street, San Francisco, stating that McGivney was at the place under the care of a physician.

When he left home, the old man had a severe bruise upon his head. It was learned that he had wandered across the bay Monday last to return to this side by a friend who happened to meet him. He evidently did not stop long here, but recrossed and was later picked up and taken to the hotel.

"We are grateful to THE TRIBUNE for the assistance it gave us in tracing my grandfather," said Miss McGivney, "and we feel sure that we would not have learned where he was so soon were it not for that aid."

GIRL CAUSES ARREST OF AGED CAPITALIST

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Thomas Sibley, an aged capitalist, whose liaison for Eunice Glatz, a candy girl residing at 242 Powell street, caused his arrest last April on a charge of threatening his life, was freed yesterday at the instance of Miss Glatz and held under $5000 bonds fixed by Police Judge Stortall on a similar charge.

The young judge, the son of Sibley, had been absent from court, however, but recently returned and has since threatened her again.

The case was continued to Monday.

STANDARD BRINGS IN ANOTHER BIG GUSHER

BAKERSFIELD, July 29.—The Standard Oil Company has brought in a gusher in the Buena Vista hills, the land of the famous gassers. The Standard's well on the southeast quarter of section 26, 31-23, and was brought in Wednesday as a $300 to $500-barrel well.

The well is a mile northeast of the Standard's pump station between the Honolulu Consolidated's gasser on section 4, 22-24, and the Standard's gassers on 26, 31-23.

The drill went through the sand at 2450 feet and the well is finished with 4½-inch pipe, the oil testing 25.4 gravity.

Mrs. Bunch was queen of the Golden Gate held last week.

Rev. William Barton, author, to preach here.

The August number of the Ladies' Home Journal, which is just out, contains a notable article entitled "A Church Where No Sermons Are Preached." It tells the romantic story of a woman's dream and an artist's life-work. The artist toiled for years and completed his task last January, dying almost immediately afterward. The article is written by Rev. William E. Barton, who preaches on Sunday, July 30, in the First Congregational Church in Oakland.

YOUNG Mothers

No young woman, in the joy of coming motherhood, should neglect to prepare her system for the physical ordeal she is to undergo. The health of both she and her coming child depends largely upon the care she bestows upon herself during the waiting months. Mother's Friend prepares the expectant mother's system for the coming event, and its use makes her comfortable during all the term. It works with and for nature, and by gradually expanding all tissues, muscles and tendons, involved, and keeping the breasts in good condition, brings the woman to the crisis in splendid physical condition. The baby too is more apt to be perfect and strong where the mother has thus prepared herself for nature's supreme function. No better advice could be given a young expectant mother than that she use Mother's Friend; it is a medicine that has proven its value in thousands of cases. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

An Old Truth Re-Discovered.

Periodically some one lights on an old truth and proceeds to advertise it as a new discovery. An instance in point is furnished by the warning uttered by Charles Howard Shinn of the United States Forest Service, of the danger of forest destruction. Mr. Shinn seems to think he has hit upon something new. As a matter of fact the waste of our timber resources has been under debate for the last fifty years. Nearly a generation ago the late William H. Mills eloquently descended on the evil effects of deforestation and protested against the cruel slaughter of our forests.

"The nation," said Shinn, "has a right to stop wasteful timbering, else the conditions of Northern Asia and other barren regions of the world will be duplicated here." One has only to turn to the bound volumes of the old Overland Monthly when published by John C. Carmany to realize that warnings against timber waste and deforestation were being voiced in the early seventies.

For instance, the Overland Monthly for March, 1871, contained an article on Western Woodlands, written by Taliesin Evans of Oakland, pointing to the rapid destruction of American forests and the wasteful methods by which lumbering was carried on in this country. After giving detailed statistics of the increasing consumption of timber and the various uses to which it was being put, Mr. Evans says: "By this means consumption alone (the uses enumerated) our forests will have disappeared, unless renewed, within the period of sixty-five years."

That was written forty years ago. Mr. Evans was making a plea for the protection and renewal of forests. He was lifting his voice against wanton waste, criminal extravagance and the brutal ignorance displayed by greedy exploiters of the forest domain. Mr. Evans goes on to say: "Not a summer season passes by but what thousands of acres are laid waste by fire, whose origin, frequently attributed to spontaneous causes, is too often the wilful work of man. As it is evident that the period of the existence of our woodlands will be materially shortened by these additional demands, independent of the natural increase in the quantity of material required for legitimate purposes, it no longer seems necessary to inquire as to what length of time they will last, but rather, how soon will they cease to exist?"

Thus the alarming portent Mr. Shinn has just discovered was observed and philosophically discussed forty years ago in the leading periodical published on the Pacific Coast. For the Overland Monthly listed among its regular contributors at that time the most distinguished men of letters California ever produced. The list includes such names as Bret Harte, Charles Warren Stoddard, John C. Cremony, Joaquin Miller, Henry George, Prentiss Mulford, Bishop William Ingraham Kip, Ina D. Coolbrith, J. Ross Browne, Mary Breck, Alice Carey and others familiar to the public a generation ago, and at a later period. Mr. Evans was therefore in strong intellectual company and addressed his warning against forest destruction through a medium that reached the better educated and more thoughtful elements of society.

Nor did Mr. Evans fail to offer suggestions as to means of forest conservation and restoration: "So far, no attempt has been made to renew it (the timber) by artificial means, and that which nature produces herself is exceedingly limited compared with that which is destroyed. But the unwarranted belief in the supposed inexhaustible character of the supply, which has caused our past wilful prodigality, cannot justify our present neglect to renew a resource which we can ill afford to lose. * * * * An effort should be made to renew trees on the hills now being rapidly stripped, so that those evils may be effectively averted." Again, "That which lays an equal claim to the consideration of the United States, is, What shall the next generation do for timber? The necessity for renewing it at once is of the most vital importance." In conclusion, Mr. Evans said: "The day is not far distant, however, when the cultivation of trees will become a profitable employment; but, in the meantime, does it not seem to be the duty of our legislative bodies to adopt measures that will at least encourage, if not compel, those who destroy our woodlands to replenish the same?"

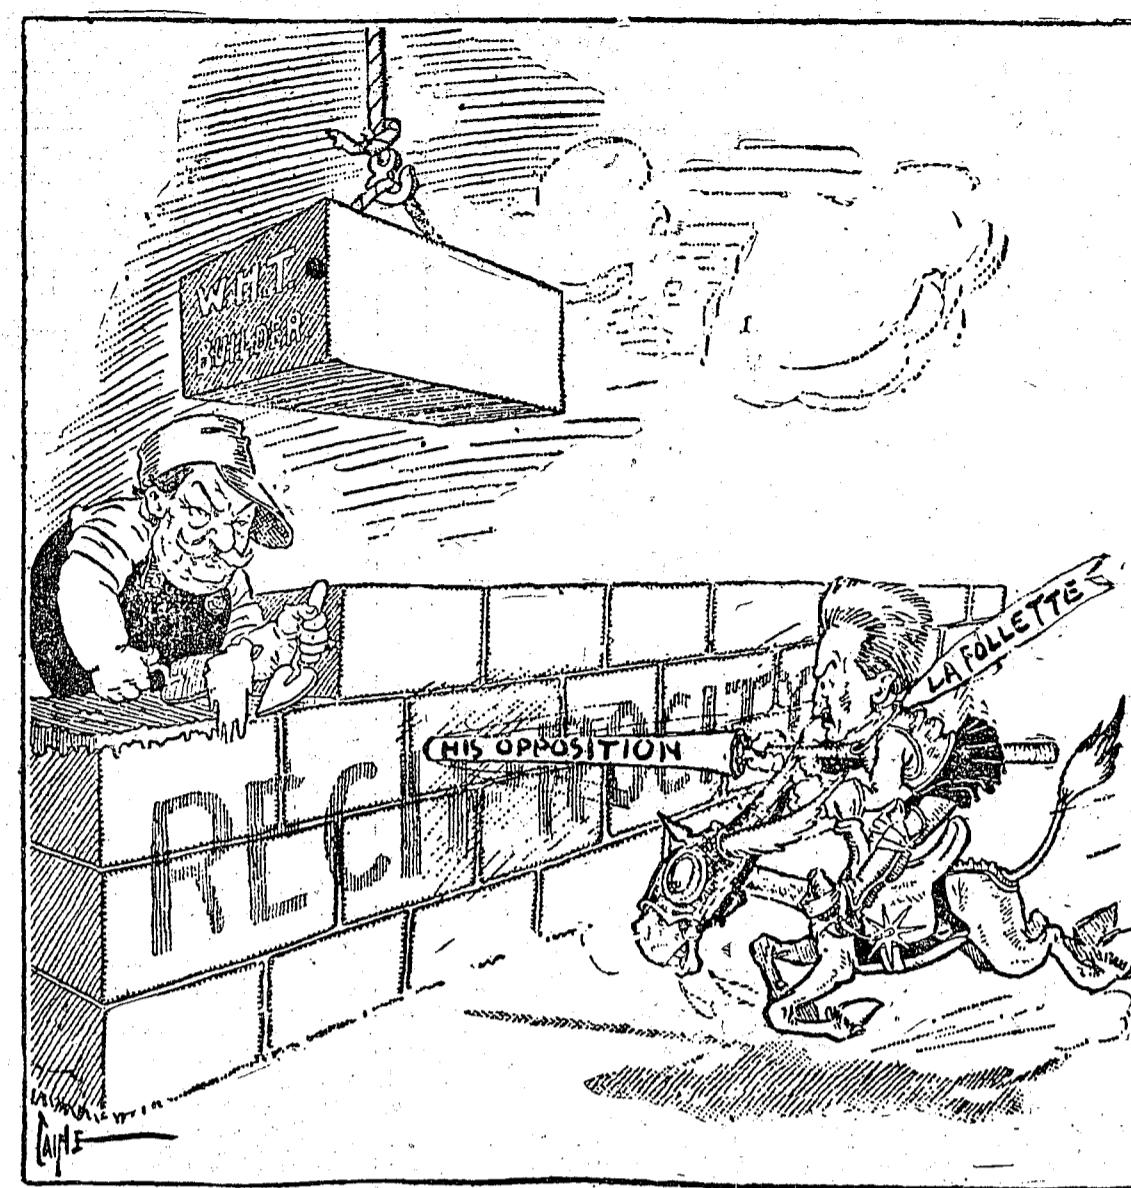

But the warnings uttered by Mr. Evans, William H. Mills, Professor Le Conte, George H. Maxwell and others passed unheeded until an opportunity arose for making forest conservation the subject of a political agitation, having personal ambition more than forest preservation for its object. Then came a throng of clamorers to lament over the twin evils which were pointed out long ago—alienation of the timber lands belonging to the people and ruthless destruction of the forests. Chas. Howard Shinn is precisely forty years behind Taliesin Evans in crying out against the waste of our timber resources. But he has all the ardor of a new convert and all the enthusiasm of a man who has stumbled upon something which he believes has hitherto escaped the knowledge of mankind. Yet Mr. Shinn was for many years connected with the forestry bureau of the Agricultural Department of the State University. It is gratifying to learn that he has at least discerned a pregnant truth, albeit an old one, and is now shouting for deliverance from an evil which was giving the judicious and thoughtful apprehension nearly half a century ago. We trust though that Mr. Shinn's new-found zeal is not prompted by the salary he draws for interesting himself in forestry.

Having voted with the Democrats to tear the woollen schedule of the tariff law to pieces, Senator Works will be in a poor position to defend the duty on citrus fruits when that section of the tariff becomes the point of attack. He cannot appeal for help from the States whose industries he has sought to deprive of protection. New England and Pennsylvania do not produce citrus fruits, but would like to buy them cheap. However, they are willing that citrus fruit growers should have protection provided like protection is given their industries. But if the representatives of the citrus growers vote to deny protection to the producers of other States they will invite retaliation. Protection is a reciprocal arrangement—a give and take proposition—and when it is made sectional and one-sided it will break in two. When Senator Works pleads for protection for California he will be asked why he voted to deny it to New England and Pennsylvania.

The recall is working with a vengeance in Seattle. Not long ago the Mayor, Hiram W. Gill, was recalled, but his successor had hardly warmed his seat before there was a petition out for his recall. The people who led the fight for the recall of Gill are now clamoring for the recall of his successor. Seattle is dull in other respects, but there's always something doing in politics thanks to the endless chain of elections the recall provides for.

England is showing her usual generosity and unselfishness in dealing with the Moroccan dispute. She is perfectly willing to give Germany a large slice of the French Congo Coast if Germany will abandon all pretensions to a naval station on the west coast of Morocco. This arrangement will cost England nothing and relieve a most embarrassing situation. That France will do all the paying makes the scheme particularly attractive to John Bull.

A Mean Attack on a Good Man.

The Stockton Mail takes this smash at a good man: "The Watsonville Register reports the visit to that town of the Honorable John F. Murray, state secretary of the Democratic Central Committee, Ph. D., P. D. S., etc., with a hatful of resolutions for the government of mankind and womanhood. The State Central Committee has ably assisted in getting the party soundly licked two or three times in recent years, and if it had a few more such indefatigable old bores as the Honorable John pirouetting around headquarters it could go to sleep secure in the knowledge that the party never would have a fighting chance. Where the Honorable John belongs is in a Grandmothers' Society for the Propagation of Knitting as a Useful Amusement."

Why should our Stockton contemporary make faces at the Hon.

John Fuzziwig Murray? Has not the Mail endorsed about all the political pipe-dreams which Mr. Murray had indulged in? Has the Honorable John ever failed to label a Bedamite notion as simonjeffersonian? Why should so diligent, so garrulous, so varied and vacuous a reformer as Mr. Murray be assailed by a newspaper that has in the past cordially endorsed Mr. Murray's efforts to qualify the Democratic party of California for admission to the Home for the Feeble-Minded?

On behalf of the Republican party, THE TRIBUNE right here and now resents the affront offered to Mr. Murray. He is a useful citizen. He promotes Republican success and makes the Democratic party not merely ridiculous, but impotent. A state committee that will have Mr. Murray for secretary is simply a vaudeville aggregation. Otherwise it is casual and unimportant—a feather-headed aggregation treading the Milky Way of politics a million miles above the earth and dreaming of a tramps' millennium in some distant sphere where money grows on trees and brains are at a discount. Mr. Murray is a horrible example, and as such he should be appreciated by Republicans and protected from such slanderous attacks as the one quoted from the Stockton Mail.

But why should the Stockton Mail go abroad to throw stones at Mr. Murray? It has more than a thousand lunatics housed in its own town. If it wants to fight that kind of people it has enough to do at home. Besides Mr. Murray is not a lunatic—he is merely an amiable darning fool.

Gifford Pinchot says the President makes a poor excuse for a bad mistake in the Controller Bay matter. Since it does not appear that the President has made any mistake or that the public interests have suffered a penny worth by reason of any action taken in connection with Controller Bay, Pinchot's statement merely reveals the animus of a disappointed and malicious man. He has thrust his jaw into the Controller Bay discussion to cover the boomerang effect of the forged "Dick to Dick" postscript. He is careful not to allude to that document, but he is equally careful not to repudiate it and those who fabricated it. No doubt Pinchot regrets that the "Dick to Dick" postscript failed of its object.

Our civic progress is not as impressive as it ought to be so long as so many choice business locations on the noblest thoroughfare in the city are occupied by picture shows, cigar stores and saloons. While such a condition exists there is no need to inquire why the shopping district has moved off the main central artery of the city nor to speculate on the causes for the decline in commercial importance of certain blocks in the heart of town.

BASEBALL THE UNIFIER

The Pribyloff Islands, as wearers of sealskin will recall, are in Bering Sea, well on the way to the Arctic Circle. The Pribyloffs are remote and cold, but the scanty population has just shown itself gratifyingly human. These people have a new naval wireless station, thus enjoying close touch with the outside world for the first time. And what was the initial use to which they put this new apparatus? Did they want to know about the latest wrinkle in pelagic sealing? Did they ask for the particulars of the agreement just concluded between America, England, Russia and Japan for the better control of the fur trade? No; they wanted to hear about the baseball situation; what was the relative standing of the clubs in the National and American leagues?

Thus does the national game spread to imperial dimensions. It follows the flag. Before such an interest one's mere scheme for getting a living goes by the board. The loyal fan ignores "shop" saves the shop of the diamond. The eager denizens of the Pribyloffs choked off from all news of King George's corona; they wanted "final results." Coronations may unify one empire, but ball scores help keep together another.—Chicago Record-Herald.

HEED NOT THESE

TO STUDY VOLCANOES

At the recent International Geological Congress in Stockholm, Dr. Immanuel Friedlander moved the founding of an International Volcanological Institute at Naples. This was approved by the Congress.

The scope of the Institute is to render possible for the first time a continuous and systematic investigation of volcanic phenomena. For this purpose the necessary laboratories and instruments are to be provided, measurements of temperatures regularly made at different places on Vesuvius, the gases periodically collected and analyzed, for which purpose a self-contained gas-analytic laboratory will be required, and local earthquakes of volcanic character, continuously registered not only during the eruptive phases, but also throughout its periods of comparative repose, etc.

For some time past an observatory has existed on Vesuvius, but systematic investigation such as planned for the new institute has never been carried out, either at Vesuvius or anywhere else in the world. The means of the above-mentioned observatory have always been insufficient, both from a pecuniary standpoint and also as regards the scientific staff, says the New York World.

The volcanic outbreaks of the last decades, the eruption of Krakatoa, of Pele, of Vesuvius in 1906 and others have occasioned extremely large economic losses apart from the sacrifice of many human lives. Our present knowledge of volcanic action depends on individual observations and by no means suffices for the foretelling of coming occurrences; nevertheless the fact can already be recognized that in most volcanoes there occurs a regular sequence of events, and it is within the bounds of possibility and even of probability that a careful and exact registration of all the phenomena of a given volcano will soon enable us to foresee approximately the time and magnitude of an eruption.

When it will be possible to observe more closely the fumarolic activity and the transformation of the rocks the world will be able to form a clearer conception of the origin of ore beds. There are several young volcanoes which within their fumarolic districts disclose the presence of small ore bodies which are still in the act of formation. These conditions have not been investigated closely up to the present time. There is no doubt that a clearer knowledge of rock transformation in fumaroles, and in volcanic processes generally, would materially influence our knowledge of ore beds.

THE GENTLE SEX

Mr. B. Drove up in a hansom and entered the jeweler's shop, accompanied by his valet, who carried an oblong box of steel. Mr. B. asked for a private interview and on being shown into the office, he opened the box, exposing a splendid array of diamond and pearl necklaces, ear-rings, charms and rings.

"Mrs. B.," he said, "is now abroad. Before she returns I want you to extract these stones and replace them with good imitations, selling the real jewels and giving me the money. This, of course, is to be a confidential transaction. Mrs. B. is to know nothing of it."

"My dear sir," said the jeweler, "I should be glad to do as you ask, but it is impossible. Two years ago Mrs. B. called here on the same errand, in her case was successful. The paste jewels that you offer me are worth little more than the cost of the hansom awaiting you outside."

Desertion and non-support of the family is a growing evil which cannot be checked too soon. More uniform laws regulating the punishment of both offenses are a necessity. It is imperative that desertion should be made a misdemeanor and not a felony, in order that it may be dealt with in domestic relations courts.

Buffalo, New York and Chicago now have domestic relations courts in which a woman with a troublesome husband may appear at any time and secure the aid of the law without experiencing the degradation of appearance in a criminal court. More of these courts are also needed, and it is evident that they should have jurisdiction over all cases of non-support and desertion.

Such power vested in them would, it is believed, decrease the the destitution among the poor to a remarkable extent. Investigation has shown that from 8 to 42 per cent of the families needing charitable relief in the largest cities are brought to their condition either by the desertion of fathers or their failure to support.—Human Life.

GOSSIP FROM SAN FRANCISCO WEEKLIES

The Metamorphosis of Jones

Time was when ex-Senator Jones of Oroville spent most of his waking hours making money. He was so busy at this pleasant game and so successful, too, that he had small leisure for the frivolities of life. His time was money and he spent it making more money. But of late Jones' friends have noticed a surprising change in him. Business interests him very little; children interest him a great deal. He who used to measure time by stop-watch (almost) now lavishes it extravagantly on the youngsters. Recently he surprised his friends by gathering together a lot of Oroville youngsters and conveying them to Sacramento. He acted the role of cicerone. He took them to the capitol and hating them before the statue of Isabella and Columbus, told them the story of the pledged jewels and the discovery of America. He told them all about the mighty statesmen whose counterfeit presentations in oil adorn the rotunda and the corridors of the seat of state. He took them up to the Senate and the Assembly and gave them an expurgated explanation of how the laws are made by the good men who consent to sacrifice themselves on the legislative pig counter. And when they got back to Oroville they knew a whole lot more about state government than they could ever glean from their text books. When the birthday of the nation approached Jones decided on an "Insane Fourth." So once more he made a collection of Oroville kiddies with their mammas and papas and took them on an excursion to Jonesville, a desolate spot in Butte near the Big Meadows. There were giant cracklers and cannons and all sorts of fireworks with no millions of the law to interfere in the celebration. To cap the climax of the patriotic entertainment the ex-senator read the Declaration of Independence and made a rip-roaring Fourth of July speech. Now all of this has surprised Jones' friends. They are discovering a new Jones they knew not of old. They demanded an explanation. "And it was very simple. I have been a successful business man," explained Jones. "I've made lots of money. I don't need any more. Henceforth I'm going to enjoy life. And I'm going to enjoy it by helping the youngsters to have a good time." Which is as commendable an ambition as I have heard voiced in many a day.—Town Talk.

Matron Adept with Cigarette

How far we have traveled from the former standards of ladylike behavior was strikingly illustrated the other day at a fashionable hotel not a hundred miles from Monterey. The woman who told me about it wandered into an inviting rocker on a secluded side of the veranda, and was having a lovely party with a day dream and solitude, when two young girls, one about sixteen and the other eighteen, snuggled down in seats just the other side of the post, drew out cigarette cases and commenced to puff. In a few moments, the elder sister of one of the girls, herself a prominent young matron in the Bellingham set, bore down upon the adolescent smokers with fire in her eye.

My friend was amused, as she knew that the young matron herself was devoted to an occasional cigarette. So my friend sat up, prepared to hear the lady preach when she doesn't practice. But what she did hear was "You girls smoke those cigarettes like farmers. I'm ashamed of you. For heaven's sake, smoke with some style. Here, I'll show you how to hold yours. That's better though it's still awkward. Now, blow your smoke this way. I'm glad that no one saw you—I'll have to take you in hand and teach you to smoke like ladies."

Which shows that all standards are made of elastic.—News Letter.

Society Interested in Engagement

So many girls have pledged their troth recently that when Miss Muriel Steele's engagement to J. Wesley Gallagher was announced, it caused a little flutter in exclusive circles, as the charming bride-to-be is a favorite on both sides of the bay. When the announcement of the betrothal was made by Mrs. E. L. G. Steele, mother of the charming girl, and widow of the late financier and clubman, it proved a signal for a shower of congratulations and engagement cups. Miss Steele is one of the popular girls in the younger set. She lives with her mother in Oakland, although the family is well known on this side of the bay. Her father, the late E. L. G. Steele, was prominent in business and club circles, being a member of both the Pacific Union and Bohemian clubs. He was very wealthy, and left his widow and daughters well provided for. Miss Steele is a sister of Mrs. Thomas Williams, and spends much of her time on this side of the bay. Gallagher comes of a prominent Pennsylvania family, and graduated from the University of Pennsylvania. He entered the service of the United States Steel Corporation shortly after his graduation from college about ten years ago. He rose rapidly, and soon became the London representative of the great corporation. He occupied this post for nearly six years, and it was while he held this position that he met his bride-to-be. She was on a trip to Europe with her mother two years ago, and while in London she met Gallagher. The romance that started then culminated in the announcement of their engagement. Gallagher is now the company's representative in Shanghai, and, following their marriage in September, he will take his bride to Shanghai to live.—The Wasp.

Cruel to Genthe

Arnold Genthe has departed the local field of endeavor and the camera artist who came from San Bernardino to study his methods has returned to his studio opposite the courthouse. But during his absence, the door of his place of business bore, so a correspondent informs me, a lovely notice, written on brown wrapping paper as follows: "Gone to Frisco to study art under Arnold Genthe, the celebrated German color artist and (h) after artist at his school." An irreverent boy had added the "h"—Town Talk.

Persistence Wins Heiress

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Dorothy Payne Whitney to Willard D. Straight, is pleasant news to social circles both in the East and the West, for Straight is well known in California and his strenuous wooing of the famous beauty has been watched with much interest. When he was Consul-General at Mukden it was his custom to send long cable messages, "costing something like $5 a word to the object of his devotion, and, I learn that Miss Whitney was often awakened from a sound nap in the morning by the arrival of a $200 cablegram inquiring about her health, her appetite, her general behavior and what not. Such devotion, as well as the flood of flowers that came to her from him through a Washington florist each morning, convinced the pretty heiress that true love had at last been found and that Straight had convinced himself for the loss of Miss Mary Harriman. The result is the announcement of the engagement of the young couple. Miss Whitney has something like $7,000,000 in her own name, while Straight is wealthy himself. Straight was born in China, where his parents, who were missionaries, accumulated a large competency, like most missionaries. The wedding will be held in September, and will be attended by the flower of Eastern society.—The Wasp.

Jack Wilson and a Hat

J. C. Wilson, our busy stockbroker, dined at Techau's with Louis Sloss a few days ago and hurrying away to catch the Lark for Los Angeles took "Sloss' derby by mistake. Being absorbed in matters of important business, he did not notice the mistake. He wore the Sloss headpiece all day in the southern city and in the evening entrusted it to the hat boy at the California Club. After dinner when Wilson tried to reclaim his hat there was nothing doing. The hat boy proffered him a very good derby, but it bore the initials "L. S." and Wilson explained that it was not his. "My hat is initialed J. C. W." he informed the boy. But in all the array of pull coverings in the cloak room of the California Club there was no such derby. Wilson decided to wait until most of the diners had left and recover his own hat by a process of elimination. It was pretty late before the California clubmen had all deserted their beautiful quarters, but Wilson was determined to get his own hat and he bided his time in philosophical patience. Finally he sailed out to the cloakroom once more. There was only one derby on the rack. Wilson asked for it. It contained the gilded legend "L. S." And then Wilson got mad. He dashed the inoffensive derby on the carpet and trod on it like an Indian executing a war dance. There has been nothing just like that performance since the late poet Swinburne gave a similar exhibition, prompted by the same accident, in a London club. It was a sorry looking hat that the attendant gathered up and consigned to the waste basket. Wilson, unbent, taxied to his hotel and bought a hat the next morning. When he returned to the city it happened that the first man he told the story to was Louis Sloss. And when the story got about he had to crack enough bottles to buy a dozen hats.—Town Talk.

Horsemanship and Appetite

Richard Tobin, the pride of San Mateo, has become also its chief envy. At his place in El Cerrito, Tobin has as his guests Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miller and Chauncey Olcott, Irish, and with the exception of Hackett, the greatest stage lover of them all. If Hackett were not Irish, too, Chauncey would be even greater than he. Tobin is somewhat of a famous person himself, being one of the greatest poloists ever beaten by England. There is one good thing about polo, however; you can always blame it on the pony. At any rate, the ride from Ghent to Aix would have been nothing to Richard; nor, for the matter of that, to his guests, either. Several times, led by Tobin, they have done the trip from Burlingame to the Cliff House without appearing to suffer the slightest discomfort. On the other hand, the exercise is having a most agreeable effect on Olcott, who, it is admitted, even by his greatest admirers, has grown a little too round for ideal love. Chauncey seems to understand this very well himself, for, according to his host, he rides like the devil. It was in compliment to his equestrianship that Tobin remarked the first day he rode with him:

"Chauncey, you have the finest seat for an actor I ever saw."

"Oh, I have a better one than that," returned Olcott.

"I don't see how."

"Devouring Irish stew," supplied the actor. "Wait till we get to the Cliff House."—News Letter.

Mrs. Huse IS Native

Mrs. Charles J. Huse's explanation of her possession of a lady's cigarette case, alias no longer in her possession since its loss—is native. The fair and sprightly young Chicago matron, who was known to local society as Juanita Wells, took the cigarette case to the St. Francis to lunch. In the dressing-room she laid it on a table while her attention was riveted on powdering her nose. When she turned to pick it up the cigarette case was gone and forthwith Mrs. Huse advertised its loss. To the reporter who inquired details of the supposed theft, Mrs. Huse explained that on the tour of the Orient whence she had but a few days returned with her husband she had carried the case to supply his smokers, no "making" being procurable. It became a habit to carry it that she could not overcome when the land of "makings" and cigars was reached and she carried the case, a handsome bronze article inlaid with gold, in San Francisco. She feels badly over its disappearance and has offered rewards for its return as she values it as a souvenir of her travels and is loth to give it up. However Mrs. Huse retains possession of her chow dogs and may be seen in the vicinity of the Fairmont leading her two Chinese dogs attached to one leash. They cost Mrs. Huse a pretty penny in custom duties but their mistress declares they are worth it.—Town Talk.

Dramatic Stunt for Society

If society did not have a dramatic quality on most of the time, the probability is that more members of the smart set would forsake the satin-shod ways of the fashionable world for the hard life of the stage. But there is always an opportunity to get one's dramatic aspirations out of one's system for the benefit of sweet charity. The latest endeavor is for the benefit of the Armistice Orphanage, and will take the form of a bazaar garden party to be given at Miss Jennie Crocker's new home in Burlingame on September 16. Miss Crocker is expected home for the event, and will undoubtedly bring back some new stunt from abroad to add to the program as her contribution.

The most novel feature of the affair will be the "Beauty Show." Every man whose features are in the Class A structure class is being impressed into service, for the men are to be disguised as famous beauties and auctioned off by Mrs. Walter Martin, Mrs. Gene Murphy, Mrs. Laurence Scott, Mrs. Will Taylor, Mrs. Fred McNear, Miss Virginia Joliffe and several other kindred spirits.

As a result of serious study of old plates, many a man has been taken into the strong light and informed that with the help of some powder and paint and false hair and chiffons and laces, he can be palmed off as some famous beauty. Even Walter Martin's fatal gift of face-making has not kept him out of the running, and Peter Martin's liquid eyes will be trained to simulate the soft languishing glance of some court beauty. The preparations for this event naturally keep fun going at a high rate of speed, and each rehearsal will be a treat for the fun-loving participants.—News Letter.

Victims of Bad Accidents

It would seem that certain accidents run in certain families, even as certain shades of hair and tricks of manner. For instance, the Von Schroeder star of destiny seems to travel in a parallel course with runaway horses. This family has always been devoted to the horse, even the advent of the automobile horse. But they have all at various times been the victim of more or less painful accidents. Miss Von Schroeder was injured in a runaway accident last year over in San Rafael, and it was months before she recovered from the injuries sustained at that time. And now Baron Von Schroeder is going through the painful siege of a broken arm that is stubbornly mending and refuses to respond to the hurry-up coaxing of the most skillful physicians. Baroness Von Schroeder spent the week in town with her sister, Mrs. Eleanor Martin, but has returned to the San Luis Obispo ranch, taking with her several house guests, who will relieve the tedium of the Baron's convalescence.—News Letter.

When Hammon Overfed

Wendell P. Hammon of the Natomas Consolidated, the Northern Electric and other big California interest, is a very busy man. So busy in fact, that like the late E. H. Harriman, he has the bad habit of thinking in bed. Another bad habit of his consists in transacting business at luncheon. He dispatches an oil deal and a salad chiffonade at one and the same time, discusses a chap while he is discussing the terms of a loan, stirs his small back while he is buying a block of stock. As his appetite for business is as healthy as his appetite for food and drink Hammon suffers neither mental nor physical indigestion as the result of this commingling. There is naught of the dyspeptic about Hammon. But one day last week he carried the dual role of businessman and luncher too far. He was sitting in the Palace Grill with two other men of affairs, Robert Cords Jr. and Al Guberson, the oil men. They had just completed a hearty luncheon and were bringing an important deal to a close with cigars and demitasses. Enter a bell boy, paging Hammon. The busy man signaled his presence and buttons presented a card. Hammon looked at it and uttered an exclamation of chagrin. "By Jove," he told his companions, "I forgot that I had a business luncheon with Mr. Sandoval at this hour. It wouldn't do to let him know that I forgot the engagement. There's nothing for me to do but to eat another luncheon." And it is of record that he did.—Town Talk.

Gaiety at Country Club

There has never been a season when the country clubs have been so gay. Not only are the people living thereabouts making more use of them than ever, but even the people in town no longer consider it an unprofitable exertion to choo-choo over to Lagunitas, or Claremont, or down Menlo Park way for luncheon, returning to town the same day. The Legunitas Country Club has had its luncheon calendar filled all season, one of the prettiest affairs having been hosted by Miss Marian Miller on Monday. Miss Miller does not feel the call of the antiseptic bandage and the sterilized milk bottle so strong that she is not going to take a few frolicsome canters at bridge luncheons and equally light-minded diversions before settling down to the serious business of the sick. Among those who motored over from town for the luncheon Miss Miller gave on Monday were Mrs. Douglas Fry and Miss Harriet Alexander. The Misses Gertrude Thomas, Margaret Belden and Frances Martin, with the young hostesses, filled another automobile that started from Ross Valley.—News Letter.

Showed Himself True Gallant

It is related of "Grant" Carpenter that at a Press Club gathering, upon being asked by a widow to guess her age, he made what to another might have been a fatal pause. "You must have some idea about it," she said, with what was intended as an arch sideways glance. "I have several ideas," admitted Grant, with a smile. "The only trouble is that I hesitate whether to make you ten years younger on account of your looks, or ten years older, on account of your brains." Then, while the widow smiled and blushed, he took a graceful but speedy leave.—News Letter.

Mrs. Martin in Paris.

I noticed Peter Martin at the Column Monday night. He sat in an upper box with John Lawson and occasionally wagged affectionately to his mother, Mrs. Eleanor, who sat downstairs with a party of friends. Peter looked lonely. And he has every reason to feel lonely, for his wife is away. Mrs. Peter Martin is in Paris, having quite a good time, according to all accounts. She has been attracting a lot of attention with her gowns, some of the most striking of which were made in this city. To excite Paris with gowns made in San Francisco is no mean achievement. Royalty has graced some of the entertainments to which she has lent her presence. The Duke of Sparta who is the Crown Prince of Greece and the Grand Duke Boris of Russia whom we know out here, are among those who have attended entertainments at which she was an honored guest.—Town Talk.

Walter Morosco's Vigorous Protest

At a Press Club links the other night Senator Joaquin Wanrell sang the prologue to "Flagiacco" and sang it as he always sings it, with splendid effect. "I never hear that song," reminisced a well-known theatrical man, "that I don't think of Walter Morosco." Walter Morosco, you remember, was running the old Grand Opera House when the Metropolitan Opera Company gave their first season of grand opera in this city. "Flagiacco" was given on the first night and Walter Morosco sat in a stage box with Peter Robertson, Alice Rix and other well-known newspaper writers. It was a great night for Walter and he was resplendent in perfectly new clothes, a perfectly new crush hat and the whitest of new white gloves. A hush went over the big audience when the great Scotti appeared to sing the prologue. Morosco listened for a few moments, fidgeting all the while. Then he rushed back of the scenes and confronted Max Hirsch. "Shout," he shouted, "when you want to make an announcement to the audience why in hell don't you get somebody who can talk English?"—Town Talk.

Is the Governor Sensitive?

Is Governor Johnson sensitive, just the least bit sensitive, about his statue? I asked myself the question after studying the pictures taken for the papers the day he went out to the Presidio to review the troops with Adjutant General Forbes. In all those pictures the governor seems to be as tall as General Forbes. Of course everybody knows that the doughty general towers over the governor. But you would never suspect the governor's deficiency of inches by those photographs. They were either taken when the governor was standing just a little higher than the general or at an angle which concealed his inferiority. Was this done by design or was it an accident? It is no use asking the photographers because of course they wouldn't divulge a State secret. It certainly looks as though the governor wants to look taller than he really is. This is a harmless conceit, which prompts the desire, a conceit shared by Dr. Munyon who always mounts a curb or a box or anything else that is handy when his picture is to be snapped in the company of a taller man. A conceit shared also by certain prominent citizens of this town whose names it is unnecessary to specify. The newspaper photographers know the idiosyncrasies and humor of. But when I saw those newspaper pictures of the governor marching shoulder to shoulder (seemingly) with General Forbes I thought of that old poem which used to be in the school readers, "How tall was Alexander, my pa, that people called him great?"—Town Talk.

Ernest Wiltsee's Infatuation

Ask any of a dozen men or women who pay frequent visits to Caesar's who is the best customer Caesar has and the answer is sure to be, "Ernest Wiltsee." And so it is. Ernest Wiltsee is not only the most regular but the most conspicuous visitor to that resort of the hour. For his conspicuously there are two simple explanations: he is the tallest man who goes there and he is always dancing. Wiltsee is infatuated with the turkey trot. He has a mania for ragging. He never misses a dance, no matter how appetizing his dinner or how crowded the floor. His friends are in wonderment at his enthusiasm which shows no signs of flagging. I was talking to one of Wiltsee's friends the other day and he confessed that he could not understand why "Why, only yesterday," he told me, "I met Wiltsee and he was as excited as a boy. It seems he had spent the best part of the afternoon teaching a young woman to dance the turkey trot." For a man of Wiltsee's years and experience, the case is remarkable. Some psychologist may be able to explain it.—Town Talk.

Our Picturesque Doctor

Reposing somewhere in a pigeon-hole, I am told, is the resignation of Surgeon General J. Winslow Anderson of the National Guard. What a calamity is here impending. Dr. J. Winslow Anderson is as fine a type of national guardian as we have, as far as appearance goes, and in time of peace what more do we want in a guardman than picturesque? If Dr. Anderson had nothing but his whiskers to set off brass buttons and gold braid with, it would be a capacious critic that would ask for more. In his self-complacency and his spick-and-spanness he reminds me of that darling hero of old romance, Sir Charles Grandison. But recently returned from Europe our stylish surgeon-general has of late had his luxuriant whiskers on exhibition along the park drives, sometimes on horseback, sometimes between two ladies fair in a beautiful carriage drawn by mettlesome steeds as handsome as the doctor himself. The doctor, his equipage and his companions compose a spectacle harmonious and fascinating. Dr. Anderson may not be a man of action in the tented field, but they tell me he is soothed in the sick room, and as he is certainly ornamental for national guard purposes I hope his resignation will not be accepted.—Town Talk.

King Edward Complimented Her

Miss Muriel Steele who is going to marry Wesley Gallagher, a prominent member of the steel corporation, is one of our very handsome girls. When Miss Steele sits in a box at a theater nobody looks at anybody else in the playhouse. Her blonde beauty is irresistible and her queenly air in repose is simply superb. Her sister, Mrs. Thomas H. Williams, is also a very beautiful woman, but not as beautiful as Muriel. When the latter was presented at court in London the late King Edward who was a connoisseur, was enthusiastic. "That," he said, "is the most beautiful American girl I have ever seen"—Town Talk.

Lohengrin Hop at Presidio

The unique affair of the weekend was the Lohengrin hop at the Presidio. Lohengrin is not written in hop time, but it was altogether fitting that the dance should be so designated, for the receiving party was made up entirely of brides and grooms, and the band played the wedding march with a tender sense of all it symbolized. There are so many newly-weds in the service just now that the perfume of orange blossoms can be detected in the air all the time by working the imagination in defiance of the eight-hour law.

In the receiving party were Lieutenant and Mrs. W. S. Fulton, Lieutenant and Mrs. H. W. Stephenson, Lieutenant and Mrs. Bruce Butler, Lieutenant and Mrs. D. H. Crissy, Lieutenant and Mrs. C. Hines, Lieutenant and Mrs. G. R. Sherman, Lieutenant and Mrs. G. B. Elliott, and Captain and Mrs. J. C. Bond. It was one of the bravest displays of weddin g fashions ever presented to the eye at one time, for all the brides wore their white satin bridal robes.

It is not often given to the engaged girl to take notes on so many gowns, and it was evident that several belles present were sorting and labeling and choosing with an eye to future affairs of their own.

Never has a receiving line excited more comment, but

THE MEDDLER

In the heart of the summertime the good officers who control the destinies of the many card clubs must begin to prepare for the winter's campaign. It takes true diplomacy to direct the affairs of a card club, and the president's lot is not any easy one. No diplomatist in a foreign capital has a harder time. In the first place the personnel of a card club is constantly changing. Members move away, so increasing duties of many kinds make it impossible for a woman to retain her membership in a club, and some one must be elected to her place. An easy enough matter it seems, on the face of it, but one of the most difficult things in the world in reality. Most women in the smart set belong to some club, so the problem is of course of interest to most of them. There is the woman who is eligible to membership because she plays a fine bridge game, but after her election the president of the club is apt to hear some such remarks as this:

"A club makes you receive members in your home who would never get there any other way." Of course, it is only a woman who is very much of a snob who would make a remark like that, but such opinions have been expressed nevertheless. They are part of the history of every club. Then we have on the other hand the woman who is chosen for her social position, but all her social prestige does not mean that she can play cards. She is sometimes the most tiresome of women. She comes late to the club, keeps her table waiting of course, always chooses the rubber game in which to tell a long story, and before the season is out she becomes the despair of the club.

The famous "old man of the sea" fades into insignificance beside her, because, on account of her social prestige, she simply must be endured.

We all know the story of the woman who always led a Jack—anouncing with her sweetest smile, that as he wasn't very high or very low, he couldn't do much either way. It is on the same principal that in "sitting on the fence" you are safe.

Most clubs now have a waiting list, from which after a season or two, new members are drawn. There is the substitute list, a sort of try-out affair. People who really prove their unfitness, never find themselves on the regular role of membership. There are some very good players who never want to be regular members of a club, who do not want to bind themselves to regular days. For there are sure to be many things that a popular woman cares to do on a regular bridge afternoon.

COST MATTERS NOT AT THESE SESSIONS.

In New York many of the bridge clubs last season held their meetings at Sherry's, or at some of the leading down-town hotels. The hostess made the arrangements, and of course, the cost hardly mattered. The women's club rooms were also used by the bridge clubs, and a hostess does not have to take so much trouble under these circumstances. Of course, the home environment is lacking, that home element that is so very charming. But in these days when the domestic problem grows acute, the hostess welcomes the club room as a haven of refuge. On our side of the bay these same club rooms are not lacking, and we have the Woman's Exchange, the Key Route Inn and the Ebell Club, all offering fine facilities for bridge afternoons.

They offer fine facilities also for the serving of refreshments, which ends a bridge afternoon. Each club is bounded by rules as to what shall constitute these same "refreshments." The rules are meant to protect the poorer members of a club, that they may not try to emulate the wealthier members. But the kindness is not appreciated for it is not a matter of money after all, but a matter of knowing how to plan, how to serve. Mrs. William Creed has for many seasons been president of the Thursday Club, and its initial afternoon always means luncheon to the members, given by the president. Mrs. Henshaw entertained the members of all the bridge clubs to which she belonged last year at an elaborate luncheon, and many other well known bridge players did likewise.

At another club it was always to be "just tea and wafers," and as everybody absolutely detested "wafers" nobody stayed after the game. You can get an Englishman or an English woman to eat bread and butter with the afternoon cup of tea, but not the average American. She has only just learned to enjoy her afternoon tea, but do not ask her to accept just a plain bread and butter sandwich with it.

The latter was long the rule of the fashionable Cosmos Club, of which the late Mrs. F. M. Smith was for many seasons the able president. But then, as now, in all ranks, there were insurgents, and the slogan meant down with the bread and butter regime.

So one day it all took form in a most gorgeous surprise party at the residence of Mrs. I. A. Chase. All day "provender" of every description reached her home, the best they knew how to serve, contributed by some of the members of the club. Needless to say, the latter played rather wildly, an air of suppressed excitement pervaded the atmosphere. The game was concluded and it was time for the bread and butter sandwich. When suddenly, the doors were thrown open, and lo, to the eyes of the astonished president, a banquet fit for the gods was presented. Great was the merriment, and in the face of the circumstances, the president was wise in her day and generation, and accepted the situation gracefully.

It was a late hour that evening before the members of the Cosmos Club sought their homes. Needless to say, none of them appeared at dinner in their respective homes. And the history of that banquet goes down as one of the most notable chapters in

GROWN BEYOND THE BREAD AND BUTTER STAGE.

We have grown beyond the bread and butter stage in the bridge clubs, and now, a member who joins a club does so fully expecting to do her share. Mrs. William Creed has for many seasons been president of the Thursday Club, and its initial afternoon always means luncheon to the members, given by the president. Mrs. Henshaw entertained the members of all the bridge clubs to which she belonged last year at an elaborate luncheon, and many other well known bridge players did likewise.

So to "bridge" many people owed some of the most enjoyable entertainments of last winter. The oldest card clubs in Oakland are the Wheelock and the Cosmos, both of which retain now very few of the original members. The Monday Club comes next in prominence, and there is only one "Duplicate Bridge" Club over here. That sort of bridge is so strenuous that one must have iron nerves to play it all winter.

Bridge clubs are now "auction" or "anti-auction." In London everything is "auction bridge," and the same is true of some of the best Oakland card clubs.

But in Berkeley—well a player just takes her life in her hands when she inquires "sweetly"—"Is it to be auction?" And as for "royal spades"—banish the thought! Let no one "by that token" make any mistake concerning the bridge players of Berkeley; they play a wonderful game, and it is very seldom that the stranger within their gates can keep up with it.

So the various club presidents are everywhere very busy, each formulating a campaign that may bring glory to the history of the club in the coming season.

OAKLANDERS MOST DESIRABLE OF VISITORS.

Oakland families make the most desirable of summer visitors, for there are always many social activities wherever they happen to be. Last summer many Oakland people were at Tahoe, and this year one finds them at Brookdale and in historic Santa Barbara. The last vacation days at Santa Barbara are devoted to a round of entertainment, some well known women of our smart set being among the most successful hostesses.

Mrs. Oscar F. Long, who with her children is spending the summer at Miramar, a fashionable suburb of Santa Barbara, was the hostess last week at an elaborate bridge luncheon. Mrs. Long is always a most successful hostess; she knows how to plan, and how to carry her plans to a successful conclusion.

Among her guests were:

Mrs. Isaac Requa Mrs. Do...
Mrs. Alice Requa Mrs. Adequate Doe
Mrs. Alice Requa Jr. Mrs. Parker
Mrs. Wm. Henshaw Miss Sawyer
Mrs. Harry Chickering Miss O'Neill
Mrs. Mark Abbott Miss Beatrice McNear
Mrs. Frank Deering Miss Plesscott
Mrs. John Douglas Miss...
Mrs. Henry Nichols Mrs. Becker
Mrs. Bertha Wilcox Miss Emma Farrier
Mrs. Edson Adams

And what would life in the summer time in the country be without a picnic? The Ellwood Cooper ranch is one of the finest in Santa Barbara, the great olive orchards, from which come the famous Cooper oil, being known all over the country. And it offered the environment for a very delightful picnic a few days ago. Among the merry crowd who enjoyed the day's outing were:

Mrs. G. W. Churchill Mrs. Edson Adams
Mrs. Isaac Requa Miss Grimes
Mrs. Oscar Long Miss Wilcox
Mrs. Alice Requa Miss Henshaw
Mrs. Mark Abbott Miss Emma Farrier
Mrs. Wm. Henshaw Mrs. Harry Chickering
Mrs. Stanley Morehead

Among the children were:

Amy Requa Ruth Abbott
Alice Requa Granville Abbott
Lawrence Requa Elmina McNear
Amy Long George McNear, Jr.
Sally Long

Luncheon was spread under one of the great oaks, and the affair was one of the most enjoyable of the summer.

Mrs. Henshaw, who has taken for the summer, "Mira Vista" near Santa Barbara, also entertained at a bridge luncheon last week. Her guests were the members of her own house party and Mrs. John Beale, Mrs. George Marye, Mrs. Frank Deering, Miss Harriet Miller, and Mrs. Wilder Churchill.

GOLF FLOURISHES AT CLAREMONT CLUB.

Golf flourishes at the Claremont Country Club in these sunny summer days. The brawny Scotchman will play golf in the wettest sort of weather, but not so the American. He takes his golf with a dry day. And so it happens that while the women of the club are away with the children, the men are spending holiday hours on the golf links, and much of the conversation you may hear at the Country Club concerns itself with golf topics.

All the world is greatly concerned over golf. It stands for outdoor amusement, just as bridge has come to the foreground in our many drawing rooms. The great controversy that is going on now in smart sets everywhere, concerns itself with the right to change the holes on a golf course, after a tournament has been won. It seems a simple matter, but it is in reality so large a question that England has stopped playing golf in order to discuss it. In the recent golf tournament at Sandwich, England, the entries were so abnormally large, that the work of getting all the competitors off on their first round extended over three days. And before the three days elapsed, the holes were badly worn, and new ones were arranged.

The committee in charge were censured for this and that is a word to the wise for our local golf players. And a clever analysis of golf—of its elusive charm—follows the censure:

"It cannot too forcibly be pointed out that the great object of golf is not that the conditions shall always be equal for all the players. In practice they never can be so, until man has harnessed the wind, bottled up the rain, and otherwise subdued the forces of nature. One of golf's greatest charms is its ever varying luck. The luck of the draw, the luck of the weather, the luck of the lie, are the very salt of the game. It is not necessary for the playing of golf that two or more golfers should have the same conditions of sun and wind, the same luck in the run and the lie of the ball, the same fortune in the laying or escaping of stymies. But it is necessary for the playing of the game that the players should have the same round of holes."

And it is interesting to know that golfers are not uniformly good players. They are variable stars. A golfer sometimes has periods of dullness when he sinks to the level of a star of the second magnitude, but every now and then he flashes out into a perfect blaze of brilliance.

The Claremont Country Club links are ideal, and more men play on them systematically than on any other golf course in the State. Among the men whom one may meet in the late summer afternoons are:

Robert Fitzgerald George McNear
Ernest Folger John Valentine
Captain Goodall Harry Haight
M. W. Kales J. P. Neale
Frank E. Kales Jack Neale
Spencer Kales Mr. Gary
Wickham Havens Charles Bates
Harold H. H. East Miller
H. H. East Miller William Johnson
George Greenwood Fred Mages
George Knowles

TENNIS IS ALSO HOLDING ITS OWN.

Tennis is holding its own also, and many good players are now to be found on our local tennis courts. Berkeley has developed a tennis star of the first magnitude in Hazel Hotchkiss, who has won many championships in the East, and who plays fully as good, if not a better game than May Sutton. All over the city are tennis courts. The play grounds were meant to be for the children, but it is surprising how much they are enjoyed by "the children of a larger growth." The many families in the neighborhoods of all the tennis courts thoroughly enjoy them, and so successful is the experiment, that there is a call for more tennis courts all over the city. We meant for our little children to play—and here are our tired business men playing as well—and what result could be more desirable?

All the Havens are exceedingly good tennis players, and many Sunday afternoons there are specially interesting games on their tennis court. A fascinating "kitchenette" has been built there also, and Mrs. Wickham Havens knows how to plan an afternoon tea, that will reward the efforts of the tired tennis players.

Among the very good players on our local tennis courts are:

Wickham Havens Mrs. Harriet Stone
Edward Engs Mrs. Marian Stone
Mrs. Charles D. Bates Mrs. Valentine
Mrs. Charles D. Bates Heml Knight
William A. Magen Mrs. Oscar Long
Mrs. William A. Magen Mr. Oscar Long
Mrs. Charles H. Rowes The Misses Bassett
Mrs. Charles H. Rowes The Misses Bassett
Miss Ross Kales Mrs. Carol Purdie
Mrs. Thos. Knobles Mrs. Carol Purdie
Mrs. Edward Solingen Mr. George Purdie
Miss Josephine Johnson The Misses Layman

In the gymnasiums we find many prominent young girls playing basketball, and the Norton School last year carried off many honors in all the school tournaments.

OAKLAND SOCIETYMEMBERS SCATTERED.

News notes of where one's friends are these in late July days are of interest. Mrs. J. P. Nevile is spending a few days in the Santa Cruz mountains, the guest of friends. The Nevilles have gone away for many short trips this season, but their hospitable cottage at Claremont has been kept open all summer. The W. B. Dunnings are also established at Claremont, and they have a cottage across the way from the Country Club. Miss Helen Dunning has as her guest, Miss Margie Merritt.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leonard Smith have left London and are now in Paris, and they plan to spend the early August days in France.

Mr. and Mrs. James McDowell and the Misses Dunn are in the Yellowstone Park, and Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Kane are there also. Mr. and Mrs. William Ede have returned to Piedmont, and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Williamson after a sojourn in Yosemite.

Valley have opened their home on Hillside avenue. Mr. and Mrs. David Oliphant (Fay Chapman), are enjoying an ideal wedding trip in Europe. They are traveling very slowly, and are now in Scotland. Miss Eliza McMullin is a guest of the Stones at their camp on the Russian river. Mrs. Frederick Stolp and her little daughter are spending some days on the Harlan ranch in the San Ramon valley.

Mrs. Thomas Pheby is at Santa Monica, where she will spend the early August days. Mrs. J. T. Wright, who was also at Santa Monica has returned to town, and is at her home on Madison street. The Harold Blacks, the Fred Magees, the Hubert Moffits, the Edwin Morrisons, Miss Chrissie Taft, Miss Dorothy Taft, and Miss Ethel Valentine are at Tahoma. Miss Maud Edith Pope is at Mill Valley, and will return to town early in August. Miss Carmen Ghirardelli and Miss Kathleen Farrell are at Del Monte, and both are playing an exceedingly good game of golf.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvanus Farnham and Miss Elsie Clifford, after a stay of some time in the Santa Cruz mountains, have returned to their home across the bay. Miss May Coogan and Miss Edith Beck are at Los Gatos, and the Coogan home at Linda Vista has been reopened, as Mrs. Coogan and Miss Marjorie Coogan have returned from McCray's. Mrs. Edward Remillard and her niece are at the Sea Beach Hotel, Santa Cruz, and at Bartlett Springs are Mr. and Mrs. Hart North.

At Bartlett Springs also are Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Moran, and Mrs. Moran's sister, Mrs. Barnes, Mr. Blair and Miss Jennie Blair.

MAKE EXTENDED STAY AT LAKE TAHOE.

Mrs. Frank J. Underwood and her children are making an extended stay at Tahoe Tavern, and at Independence Lake are the Misses Touchard and Miss Jones and Miss Center of the Horton school. At Mission San Jose are all the Moores, and Mrs. Philip Clay has been entertaining relatives at her cottage near that charming place.

The Hugh Hogans and the Thomas Hogans have been for the past two months at Sunol, and they are planning to return to Oakland next week. Mrs. Remi Chabot is still at St. Helena, and she has as her guests Mrs. J. P. Dunn and her children, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dieckmann and their children, and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Bocqueraz. Mr. and Mrs. William H. Morrison, who took possession recently of their artistic new home on Adams Point, are making many interesting motor trips this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. MacDonald have spent some time at Del Monte this summer and are now at their home on Vernon Heights. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lacey Brayton have returned from New York and are at their Linda Vista home. Mr. and Mrs. George McNear are at Santa Barbara, and Miss Emma Farrier and Miss Bertha Wilcox have gone to Santa Barbara, and are Mrs. Henshaw's guests there.

MRS. E. H. DOUGLAS
AT CATALINA ISLAND.

Mrs. Eugene Hale Douglas (Gertrude Russell), is with friends at Catalina Island. She is planning to return to Manila in the late autumn.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Brown are still at "Brown Gables," their country place at Ben Lomond. Mr. Brown has been obliged to be in town a great deal, as he is one of the commissioners whose duty it was to decide the difficult question of the fair site—the problem which has, after all, been met in so very satisfactory a manner.

Miss Florence and Miss Edith Selby are at Lake Tahoe, where they hope to spend some interesting autumn days. They were in Yosemite Valley during the early part of the summer.

Joseph D. Redding, Al Redding, Doctor D. P. Fredericks, and William Pierce Johnson have been spending some days at Del Monte. One hears that they made very good golf scores on the links there.

Mrs. Dodge (Ada Laymance), after a visit of several weeks to her relatives here, has returned to her home in Portland, Oregon.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Cooper (Ellie Goodall), with Mrs. Goodall and Arthur Goodall, made up a party which spent delightful summer days at Del Monte. They had their own motor car and enjoyed many well planned trips. Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Kittridge have spent the summer at "Tres Encinas," their country home at Saratoga, near Los Gatos.

Miss Eva Yorker and Mrs. Gordon Stolp, who made the Alaskan trip this season, have returned to town, and Miss Pussy Creed is the guest of Mrs. Wiggington Creed at Los Medanos.

Mr. and Mrs. Giles Easton are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. George Phillips of New York, and have arranged for their entertainment many interesting motor trips. Mr. and Mrs. John Adams, and their interesting family of children, have motored dur ing the entire summer, returning only at intervals to their home, Bay Place.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward de Leveaga have returned from their motor trip through the South, and are at their country place at Orinda Park. The

R. G. Browns are still at Shasta

Mrs. Granville Abbott, who with her children spent some time at Santa

Barbara, returned to her home in

Piedmont on Thursday. The Charles

S. Wheelers, with their daughters, are in England, where they have been extensively entertained by friends.

Mrs. T. L. Barker returned to town recently, having spent some weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Wallace

Alexander, at the latter's Los Gatos home.

The Caires are all at their summer home in the heart of Santa Cruz Island, and the Strattons are at their ranch at Alahlo.

Miss Hetty Simpson is in Honolulu

where she is the guest of friends, and

Lieutenant and Mrs. Albert Rees

(Jennie Lee), have returned from their wedding trip, and have established their home in Vallejo. The

Frederick Van Sicklens, and Miss

from a motor trip through Lake country, and Miss Van Sicklen is to be one of Miss Harrilet Stone's guests at the Stone camp on the Russian river.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry East Miller are still at their home in the Russian river.

Miss Albertine Detrick has been in Portland, where she has been greatly entertained by the family of her fiance, Mr. John Alexander. Mrs.

Alexander Marx, (Margaret Fitzgerald), and her little son, have returned from W. C. McCray's, where they spent some enjoyable summer days.

Mrs. Fanny Thomas and her two sons, who have also been at McCray's, are planning to return to town this week.

Mrs. Charles Houghton usually spends the summer in the Sierras, and this season she is again at Summit, and she will be away for the month of August.

Miss Seymour Hall (Ruth Houghton), is in town for the summer, and

Mr. and Mrs. Hall are at the Houghton home on Adams Point. Mr. and Mrs. George Hammer have made many short trips away this summer, and they are now at their home on the street, where Mrs. Hammer entertained a few friends informally this week. Mrs. Isaac Hyde and her daughter, Miss Josephine Hyde, are still abroad, and their home on Eighth street has been closed this year. The summer at their home in Contra Costa home next week.

Mrs. S. C. Chamberlain, one of the known of our local club women spending the summer in Southern California, where she is the guest of her sister.

Mrs. Henry D. Bull, with Miss Bessie Latham and Arthur Latham, have spent the entire summer motoring through the State. They have gone as far south as Coronado and as far north as Oregon, and one of their many trips included an expedition to

But the tide of travel has turned homeward. The various homes in the Santa Cruz mountains are being closed, and the August days will see many well known families established once more in their home in town.

SEEING EUROPE THROUGH EYES OF FRIENDS.

Next to going abroad in the summer is seeing Europe through the eyes of one's friends. And one values the letters that bring sketches from over-the-seas. One of our prominent friends, Mr. and Mrs. George Phillips of New York, and have arranged

LOUISE SWAN RETURNS TO GOTHAM SAFE AND SOUND

Missing Girl Proves It Possible to Earn Living

Father Will Interpose No Further Objection to a Career

NEW YORK, July 29.—Miss Louise Swan, who disappeared from her home last week and was found in Philadelphia where she was working, is back in New York today, having returned with her father.

She explained that she went away to demonstrate that it is possible for a young woman accustomed to every luxury that wealth can buy, to earn her own living in a strange town.

Her father said he would interpose no objection to a working career for his daughter but thought that for the present she had better rest a few weeks.

Prior to her disappearance the young woman was scolded by her parents for wanting to remain at one of the seashore resorts through the evening with a friend. The next day she disappeared without leaving a message to her parents and taking very little money with her.

Minnesota Girl Walks 48 Miles In Single Day

ST. PAUL, Minn.—A "hike" of forty-eight miles in eighteen hours over dusty roads in the heat of last Sunday was thefeat performed by Miss Florence Noren, No. 733 Jessamine street, a student at the John A. Johnson High school.

Accompanied by her uncle, she walked all the way from her home in the Arlington Hills district to Cannon Falls in Goodhue county, and when she got there she says she wasn't so tired as she expected to be.

Miss Noren is nineteen years old. She and her uncle, Charles Lumbard, a buttermaker, started from the home on Jessamine street at 4 o'clock Sunday morning, and at 10 o'clock that night they reached their destination at Cannon Falls. By the Chicago Great Western Railroad the distance from St. Paul to Cannon Falls is thirty-nine miles, but the pedometer used by Mr. Lumbard on the trip registered forty-eight miles, showing that the distance by foot is considerably greater. The hikers averaged nearly three miles an hour. Eliminating stops for rest, the average would be quite three miles an hour, or a little better.

"We just did it for fun," said Miss Noren, who returned to St. Paul by rail yesterday, "and to see whether we could do it. I haven't done much hiking myself, but I come of a walking stock. You see, my people came from Jon Koppling in Sweden. There are no trolley cars there, and if any one wants to go anywhere he just walks. Hearing so much about these long walks my parents used to take made me anxious to see whether I could do it. I was not as tired as I expected to be when I arrived in Cannon Falls and the next morning I felt fine. We intend to take another hike to Marine Falls, the other side of Stillwater, soon. If any one doubts that I walked to Cannon Falls, just tell him that I am willing to do it again. I enjoyed it."

St. Paul's other long distance walker, Dr. Alice S. Kelly, took a 200-mile "hike" from St. Paul to Lake Chetco last summer, but she made no "forced marches," occupying about ten days on the trip. So that the "hike" made by Miss Noren and her uncle establish a record for local pedestrians so far as is known.

In connection with thefeat accomplished by Miss Noren and her uncle it is interesting to know that the marching test prescribed for officers in the United States Army consists of marching fifty miles to be covered in three consecutive days. Miss Noren practically accomplished the full army marching test in one day instead of three.

ROBBED OF MONEY HID IN HER HOSIERY

CHICAGO.—Miss Hazel Hogan, forty-six, large and powerful, has been a patient of Dr. Edward Seesinger, twenty years younger, who paid all the attention beyond the demands of medical practice. To the police she said:

"I went to the doctor's office last night. We had been sitting there only a few minutes when I heard footsteps in the hall and I mentioned that to him."

"Oh, I suppose it's a patient," he said, and he arose and went through the reception room. The next instant two men with handkerchiefs over their eyes entered the room in which I was seated and before I could utter a sound one of the men caught me about the throat and choked me until I was almost unconscious. He then beat me over the head with his fists. In the meantime his companion knelt on the floor and, cutting my stocking with a knife, took a little bag containing two purses. There was $1756 dollars in the purses.

"The police arrested the doctor. He told how he hired 'Happy' Young and another to unload Miss Hogan's stocking. 'Happy' Young was taken and $1000 recovered."

Dr. Seesinger said: "I needed the money. Miss Hogan promised to lend me $800, but was slow, so I framed up this job to get the money. If she hadn't carried it around in her stocking all the time, tempting me by showing it to me, this would not have happened."

Miss Hogan is willing to forgive the physician and intimates they may marry yet.

MONA REES SETS TYPE ON EVELYN'S APPEAL

CHICAGO.—Mona Rees, the "perfect woman" of the "perfect" "Chicago," is one of the most remarkable tasks ever attempted by a woman in Chicago. She started setting type for the brief and record which will be filed in the Supreme Court in a suit over Arthur S. F. Judd. Honore refuses to grant the "reveler" a new trial.

She was convicted of abducting Mildred Bridges and is liable to a ten year sentence in prison.

The task of Mona Rees will consume the entire summer. It will be all the harder because the girl has been deprived temporarily at least of the company of her mother, Mildred Bridges.

The latter's mother, Mrs. Feltia Rees, is the founder of "Absolute Life."

KISSING COUPLES FIND THE BAR UP

LICENSE CLERK COULDN'T SEND IT

KANSAS CITY.—A new sign has appeared on one of the walls in the Kansas City courthouse:

NO KISSING HERE

That means there will be no more kissing among brides and grooms in the anteroom in the county recorder's office, where marriages are performed. The sign was hung up by Harry I. Hall, marriage license clerk. Mr. Hall, by the way, is a bachelor. His rule applies to only those who have not been married. After the marriage ceremony has been performed and in the presence of the minister and Mr. Hall, the young couple may kiss just once.

Many couples are married at the court house. After the marriage license is obtained there usually is a wait of a few minutes until the arrival of the Justice of the peace or the preacher. The couples are asked to wait in the ante room. Usually they are alone for a few minutes. If they merely "hold hands," such a mild demonstration of affection isn't at all objectionable, Mr. Hall says. But there must be no fond embracing and kissing until the preacher or the Justice has pronounced the words which make them husbands and wives.

Mr. Hall heard suspicious sounds in the ante room just after a young couple was seated there. The sounds were familiar to his ear, so he investigated. He found the young man's arms around the young woman and he was kissing her. Of course, Mr. Hall objected to such "carrying on."

WOMEN AID POLICE IN SEARCH FOR WHITE WIFE OF KOREAN PRINCE

CHICAGO.—Members of the Chicago Woman's Club and federal officials have interested themselves in a search for Mrs. Ruth Hughes, 20 years old, whose "county jail" marriage to E. Y. Hughes, said to be a Korean of noble birth, several months ago, resulted in several jail guards being "called on the carpet."

The young woman, who is said to have been ill, disappeared from her sister's home at Mishawaka, Ind., three weeks ago. Yesterday Deputy United States Marshal C. F. Guenther received a pitiful letter from the Korean husband, who is serving a six months' sentence for white slavery in a jail at Salt Lake City, Utah, professing his love for his wife and begging that she be found. The federal official called the attention of the Woman's Club to the case and a search for the missing woman was started.

THE KOREAN'S LETTER.

The letter to Deputy Marshal Guenther in part reads:

"If my wife is doing wrong I cannot blame her, as she has no close relations to care for her, but friendless and helpless as I am, as soon as I am released I will do everything to make amends and see that she leads an honorable life, if she has fallen."

"If you find her please take care of her and I will hurry to Chicago when I am released on November 17 and we will start life anew."

Mrs. Mark A. Foote, wife of the United States Commissioner, before whom Hughes was arraigned when he was sent back to Utah for trial, is heading the search for the girl. She will provide her with a home until Hughes obtains his release.

JAIL FOLLOWS QUARREL.

The plight of the Korean is a peculiar one. He formerly lived in South Bend, Ind., and while there he met Ruth Carter, who was a pretty country girl. She was attracted to the swarthy foreigner. When he went to Salt Lake City she wrote him saying she would kill herself if he did not send for her. Hughes sent her money and she went to Utah. They quarreled there and he came to Chicago.

In a fit of anger she told the federal officials of his having sent her money to pay her railroad fare to Utah. He was indicted on a charge of white slavery and arrested in Chicago. While in the county jail he sent for the girl.

They patched up their differences and before being taken to Utah for trial he and his wife were married.

CUPID LAUGHS AT UNCLE SAM

On Eve of Marriage to Rival Jilted Lover Tries to Have Woman Deported.

CHICAGO, July 29.—Cupid began a contest with the United States government when Josephine Burmistrug, Russian peasant girl, and Ivan Itchitch were married in the Greek church. Cupid is backed by 200 Chicago women, headed by Miss Grace Abbott of the Immigrants' Protective League, in his fight against the government.

When the 20-year-old girl and her sweetheart were at the altar in the West Side church last Saturday, prepared to be married, immigration agents appeared and took the girl into custody.

George Litvin, 45 years old, to whom the girl had been pledged ten years ago in Russia, was the complainant. He told the immigration authorities she was in this country in violation of the immigration laws.

At the hearing before Immigration Commissioner Thompson it was learned that Litvin had sent the girl $145 six weeks ago to pay her passage from Russia to Chicago.

While the prospective bride and bridegroom were holding a prenuptial celebration, the girl met Ivan Itchitch, who is 20 years old. They fell in love and told Litvin of the fact. He was incensed at the breaking off of the engagement and made complaint to the immigration authorities against the girl.

While the negotiations were on, the young couple were married. The immigration commissioner has the case under advisement.

Cure Costs Life

TACOMA, Wash., July 29.—It required cables to London and Honolulu to rescue Miss Evelyn Williamson, a wealthy spinster of London, from a sanatorium at Olalla, on Puget Sound, ten miles from Tacoma, where she was being starved to death, according to the statements of her friends. Her sister, Clara Williamson, also wealthy, died at the sanatorium.

The Misses Williamson came to Puget Sound as tourists. Feeling indisposed after a long trip, they were introduced to Dr. Linda B. Hazzard, a woman physician of Seattle, who conducts the starvation-cure sanatorium at Olalla. She induced them to try her treatment.

Miss Hazzard is said to have a collection of diamonds belonging to both women, valued at $6000, besides expensive gowns. As Clara grew weaker, she is alleged to have added a codicil to her will, making Mrs. Hazzard administratrix, besides giving her more diamonds and an annuity.

Today the British consul will contest this petition in the Kitsap county court, charging the sanatorium proprietress with having attempted to starve the Williamson sisters for the purpose of securing their estates, worth several thousand dollars per year each.

Science Brings Bride

BOSTON, July 29.—It develops that in the secret marriage of Commander John B. Bish, U. S. N., retired, who was president of the Christian Science mother church, and Miss Ida B. Gurney of Marion, a school teacher, there is a romance.

Commander Bish, who is one of the best known members of the mother church and prominent in the faith throughout the country, has been acting as a practitioner. Some time ago Miss Gurney, who was teaching school at Marion, a nearby town, thought that she would try Christian Science as a cure. She selected him as her practitioner. Then the romance developed.

The commander and the school teacher became interested in each other beyond the mere relations of practitioner and patient. Commander Bish asked Miss Gurney to become his wife. She agreed.

Commander Bish was born in Indiana and entered the naval academy from that state, graduating in the class of '79. He served in the army thirty years.

Files Bracelet Off

MINNEAPOLIS, July 29.—Miss Hermeline Van Slyke, devotee of fashion from Denver, Col., summoned a fashionista here to file a bracelet from her ankle.

Having read with interest the social hints from New York, Miss Van Slyke slipped the gold band from her pretty wrist to a place just above her simple foot. There was trouble when she sought to put it back, and the jeweler was called. The bracelet now rests in its accustomed place.

Van Slyke and his daughter left last night for Chicago, en route to New York.

Welcome for Stork

NEW YORK, July 29.—The fact that the stork made 52,000 visits to homes in the United States during the last year without being officially welcomed by a physician has convinced Bellevue Hospital authorities of the growing need for the scientific training of midwives.

A school for such training, which is said to be the first well-established institution of its sort in the country, has been opened at Bellevue. The course is for six months, half of which is training in the school and hospital and the remainder in homes.

Woman Sued by Doctor

RENO, July 29.—Samuel Millbank, a New York physician, yesterday filed suit against Emma Wright Richardson and J. P. Richardson to collect $110, which he charges is due him for professional services rendered to Mrs. Richardson's former husband, James F. Mendels. Since securing a divorce from Mendels the woman has married Richardson. Richardson was a former football star on the Princeton team and recently secured a divorce from his former wife on the ground of desertion. He and Mrs. Mendels were married here after both had received their decrees.

Millbank, in the complaint filed yesterday, states that Mrs. Richardson asked him to attend her former husband and promised to pay for his services.

CONFESSES BANK-WRECKING TO THE POLICE

MANKER TELLS OF BLASTED HOPES

Speculation Caused Downfall of Illinois Banker, He Tells Officials.

Former Fugitive Ready to Pay Penalty for Looting Institution.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—After having been a fugitive from justice ever since he fell from the station of foremost citizen in an Illinois town, Carey A. Manker, former president and owner of the Bank of Pearl, in Pike county, Illinois, gave himself up at the Central police station last night with the request to William Armstrong, night captain, that the sheriff of his old home be notified of the circumstance.

According to advices from St. Louis, Manker closed his bank owing the depositors $350,000 and other creditors $20,000, while his assets consisted of $600 outside of his residence property. Manker was also custodian of $1000 school funds and $300 intrusted to him as a supervisor. A great deal of his means is said to have been expended in promoting an invention of his own known as the Navigable of Hydrocurve, a sort of a boat hull with which he hoped to revolutionize navigation.

TELLS OF FLIGHT.

Manker, who is 50 years old, was accompanied to the station by J. Barkman, proprietor of the Bonanza hotel, 843 Howard street. He has been in the city for several days, having come from Auburn, where he was overcome with the heat.

Barkman noticed that something was preying on the mind of his guest and asked him to confide in him as he suspected suicidal motives. It is believed that little effort was made to apprehend Manker after he left Pearl, as he took his family with him and he could have been easily traced. His family are now in Eagle, Nebraska, he stated, and since leaving them he has wandered about the country.

Manker gave as his downfall the panic of 1907, saying that he endeavored to recuperate by dabbling in stocks with the result that he lost $45,000. He is now being held pending advices from the East. It is expected that Barkman will claim the reward of $500 offered for his capture.

WANTED IN EAST

The police received a telegram from Pittsfield, Ill., this morning, ordering the detention of Manker, which reads as follows:

"D. A. White, chief, Carey A. Manker wanted. Arrest, hold all hazards. D. F. Allen, sheriff."

Manker tells a sad story of blasted hopes and ruined ambitions and the final breakdown of health which has brought him to the final step in his career.

"I had a hundred eastern and foreign patients which I was desirous of perfecting, and in order to obtain the money to properly promote them I engaged in financial deals and speculated in stocks. Finally I dipped into the funds of the institution and later, when the crash came, I found that I had taken $650 belonging to the county.

ADVISED TO RETIRE.

"I consulted my lawyer, being then broken down in health and strength, and he told me the best thing to do was to retire from active life and try to get my health back again. At his suggestion I fixed up my affairs as best I could, and one day disappeared.

"I sent my wife and two sons and daughter to Eagle City, Neb., and I went to Canada, where I obtained a position as a draftsman, and later as a detective on one of the Canadian railroads. My health became worse, and I was ordered to a milder climate. Three days ago I arrived in San Francisco, penniless.

"I told the hotel man of my hopes and he took me in and tried to get a position for me, but could not do so. The thought came to me to flee to Australia, but I have always stood in close touch with my family and could not make the sacrifice, so on the advice of the hotel man I gave myself up and am ready to pay the penalty which the law may demand."

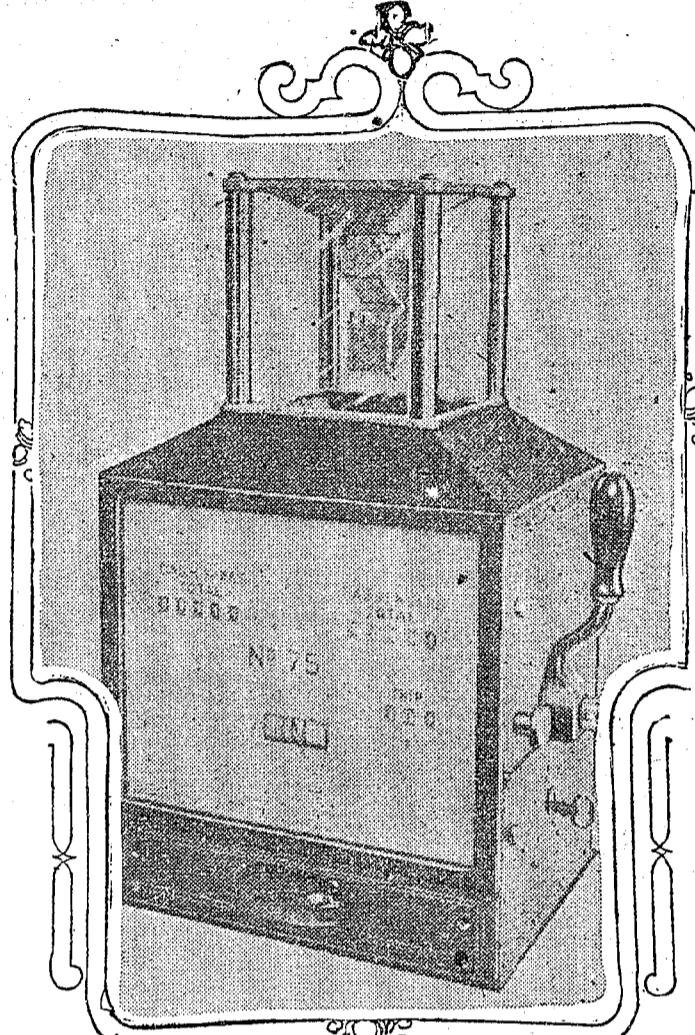

FORMER COMRADES SEE SOLDIER DIE

He Rushes Past Them and Plunges Into Waters of Bay.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Despite a vain attempt at rescue on the part of Wharfinger Foss at the Presidio wharf, this morning, James B. Farrell, an ex-soldier, succeeded in committing suicide by drowning himself in the waters of the bay. Farrell was seen running down the road toward the wharf by several of his former comrades, at 10 o'clock. He appeared excited and gestured wildly as he passed.

He was followed to the dock but before he could be restrained had thrown himself into the water. The wharfinger succeeded in rescuing him, but too late to bring back the spark of life and although restorative measures were immediately used and was rushed to the Presidio general hospital, he could not be resuscitated. Farrell was discharged on July 20 after serving his enlistment in company D, Thirteenth Infantry. He was about 24 years old and came from the state of Washington.

YOU REALLY PAY AS YOU ENTER CAR EACH PASSENGER DROPS HIS OWN FARE

The new cash register in which the Traction Company passengers will deposit their own fares as they enter the cars. These registers will be installed on the pay-as-you-enter cars.

Traction Company Further to Improve Its Service By Use of New Cash Register

On Tuesday next the Oakland Traction Company will inaugurate the installation of a new fare box in the cars of its several lines in this city and vicinity, beginning with the runs of West Eighth and East Twelfth streets. Just as rapidly as the new feature can be extended to the other street car lines, the change will be made.

For a time as a consequence there will be three systems of collecting fares employed by the company, but only a short time will elapse before the new fare box will have survived the other methods.

On some of the older cars, the system of the conductor personally appealing to the passenger and collecting his fare is still in vogue, while on the pay-as-you-enter cars the collection is taken up by the conductor at the rear entrance, thus saving him the effort of pushing through crowds and then missing not a few nickels, because of passengers reaching their destination and leaving the cars before they can be reached by the conductor.

FOUND SUCCESSFUL.

The boxes have been tried and accepted by the Third Avenue Railroad Company of New York City and have also found their way into use by the street railway companies of Chicago, St. Louis, Seattle and Los Angeles.

The boxes are credited with being rapid, accurate, equal to the heaviest traffic, are never disabled by mutilated coins and are inexpensive in their upkeep.

Superintendent James T. Potter of the Oakland Traction Company says that they are absolutely necessary for satisfactory conduct of the business on the part of the lines of the company. This is especially true of the service which the company is giving the eastern part of the city, which is greatly appreciated by the people of that section. There are cars run there in the morning, some of which give what is known as an express service.

In the evening there are also special accommodations. One car leaves this city at 5:17 and makes a quick run to Elmhurst. Three minutes later two cars connected make an express run without a stop to the same place on which there are never fewer than 150 or 160 passengers.

There are also more cars which leave at the same time, and these carry as many passengers as do the preceding ones. At 5:23 there is still another run, making four trains practically within six minutes, and this last one carries between eighty and ninety passengers with the patronage increasing.

Under the fare box method the conductor will not handle the coin of the passenger at all unless he is in making change. In other words, every passenger will be expected to deposit his nickel or dime in the box which will be provided for that purpose at the entrance to each car. The conductor will be required to see that each passenger deposits his nickel or dime without ever having a chance to handle it himself. The coins go into the receptacle and registered as

TARGET FOR BULLET

Johnny Frayne Hears Deadly Bullet Whiz Past His Head.

Dispute With Actor Results in Quick Drawing of Pistol.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Johnny Frayne, a light-weight pugilist, prominent figure in sporting circles, was the target for a bullet fired at 2:30 this morning by Samuel Hoffer, an actor employed in Dunne's cafe and who is now under arrest at the city prison on a charge of assault to murder.

The affray occurred at Turk and Taylor streets and only the poor aim of Hoffer saved the fighter. The two men were interested in different sporting publications. It was the circulation of these papers, according to the police, which was at the bottom of the dispute which arose and resulted in the quick drawing of a pistol.

Policemen Macphee, Dowd and Casey hurried to the scene and found Frayne, who informed them that he had been shot at by a man named Apaglete. Later the officers discovered that this was the name under which Hoffer was known to Frayne, and they found on the former's person a revolver containing four loaded and one empty cartridge.

Hoffer admitted the shooting, but declared that he had fired in self-defense and that Frayne had first made an attack upon him. Frayne resides at 5901 San Pablo avenue, Oakland.

With his arms securely bound to prevent him from doing injury to himself and attacking other persons, John Owen, 20 years old, who was committed to the Preston School of Industry last October by Judge William S. Wells, in the criminal department of the Superior Court, for grand larceny, was returned to the county jail this forenoon by the Ione authorities a raving maniac. Owen's home is in Oakland.

The boy began to manifest insanity about a month ago and it is believed by those in charge of the industrial school that breeding over his incarceration unbalanced his mind. During the last week Owen was very violent at the Preston institution. He attacked several of his associates with anything he could get hold of and finally assaulted one of the keepers. Then it was found necessary to place him under restraint.

An affidavit charging Owen with insanity was issued this forenoon from the office of the district attorney and he will appear before a lunacy commission in the Superior Court probably next Monday.

Records show that Colonel George E. Warring, Jr., widely known as a sanitary engineer, died of yellow fever on a steamer coming from Cuba on October 29, 1898.

Dr. Alvah H. Doty, health officer, issued an official statement in which he said Warring was cremated and that his ashes were placed in an urn at the place of cremation and later forwarded to his family.

NEW YORK, July 29.—There were five or six of us and we were awfully thirsty—wanted a gin rickey. We did not have anything to make it so two of the men went into the laboratory and got the jar which contained Colonel Warring's ashes. He had died of yellow fever on his way up from Cuba. I threw the ashes out, made the rickey and we all had a drink.

Jonah Gave Whale Acute Indigestion, Says Pastor

CHICAGO, July 29.—"Jonah and the whale is not entirely a 'fish story,'" according to Rev. G. H. Jackson, pastor of the Chicago Lawn Methodist Episcopal church, who addressed the Desplaines camp meeting today. "Many preachers are afraid or ashamed to preach about Jonah for fear of being laughed at, but the book of Jonah is one of the most evangelical of all the books in the old testament. Some people say that the gaseous juices do not act on a living body and this is given as an answer to those who argue that it would have been impossible for Jonah to have remained in the whale's stomach for three days without being digested. It was a plain case of acute indigestion on the part of the whale."

Authorities.

ALAMEDA, July 29.—Electeds of the city will be asked to vote bonds for the purchase of property north of Lincoln Park and the Jack Hayes property on the west end adjoining Washington park. Councilman Wilson C. Hammond Jr. submitted a preliminary resolution to the city council in committee session last night calling for the placing of these two propositions on the ballot. The preliminary resolution will be officially acted upon Tuesday night at the regular meeting of the city council. The council favored the two issues last night. Frank Hally, agent for the property, noted Lincoln park, which is owned by Louis Saroni, said the purchase price of the site is about $50,500 and announced that he would report Tuesday night on the matter of obtaining an option on the property for the city.

When the proposition of purchasing the Jack Hayes property was placed on the ballot at the municipal election in April for an advisory vote, it was defeated. The city is in favor of purchasing both the Hayes and the Saroni sites to enlarge Washington and Lincoln parks. Lincoln park is located in the east end of the city and Washington the west end.

$57,178 FOR STREETS.

Superintendent of Streets V. M. Frodden submitted the statement of the street department for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1910. The total expenditure was $57,178.

J. W. Turner was granted a permit to move a house from 2405 Alameda avenue to the southwest corner of Madison and Court streets.

A. D. Goshworthy, secretary of the electric light commission, presented a statement to the council announcing that the cost of wiring the Park, Fruitvale and High street bridges would be $18,10. The sum is $46,10 over the estimated cost.

A petition of remonstrance against the construction of a sewer in Bishop street, which was presented by property owners, was referred to the street committee of the council, which recommended that all action in the matter be rescinded.

A petition against the improvement of Fountain street was referred to Superintendent of Streets Frodden, who will investigate the proposition and report to the city council this night.

A protest was entered by the North Side Improvement Club against the dumping of refuse in Oakland harbor. The communication stated that the refuse floated ashore on the Alameda side. The complaint was referred to the board of health.

Building Inspector John Davies reported that a vacant building at 750 Central avenue was in an unsafe and dangerous condition. He stated that the plumber was negligent and the chimneys were in a dangerous condition. City Clerk F. E. Brownning was instructed to notify Peter H. Robinson, the agent for the building, that if it were not repaired and placed in better condition, the structure would be torn down by the city.

COMPLAINT IS MADE.

Councilman Hammond, chairman of the public utilities committee, reported that he had conferred with the Peoples Water Company in regard to the complaints of R. C. Hillen and Louis Saroni relative to the small water mains in the east end on Garfield avenue and that the company had agreed to take the mains up with its engineering department and report to the city council later. Hillen and Saroni stated that the east end was without fire protection.

The request of Mrs. J. C. Roessling to open a refreshment stand in Lincoln park was denied.

SINGER AND COMPOSER APPEAR IN CONCERT

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, July 29.—Large audience of music lovers attended the concert by Arthur Foote and Anna Miller Wood, contralto, in Pleasant Hill last evening. Many summer session students were among the auditors. The program contained several of Foote's selections, and was as follows:

(1) Recitative, and Aria, "Son Pellegrino" (Handel); (2) "Handel's 'Dove Sol'"; (3) "C'est mon Ami" (from an old M. S.); (4) "Joseph Heber Joseph Mine" (19th Century Air); (5) "My Boy Tammy" (an old Scotch air).

Arranged by Arthur Foote.

Pugilistic Promoters Seeking Matches; Oaks Once Again Fall Before the Seals

FLATOR HAS TROUBLES AND

Sensation at Short

San Francisco repeated. It was a joke. Just look at the record of the third and seventh innings and you will see why the stigma of defeat hung on the shoulders of Manager Harry Wolverton. John Flater, he of the eastern league, was up in the clouds now and then, one of those off days a slabster gets and his wildness, a boot and a joke to left that Maggart should have grabbed "wid me one hand" put us hore de combat. Score 6 for the Seals and 3 for us.

Another thing that helped shone us back a few was the sudden reversal of form of one Hunk Shaw, temporary outfielder of the Seals. Hunk made two clever catches in the out garden without misjudging the way the ball was going to fall, and he pulled out a scratch double in the third while two men rested on the base.

BUCK WEAVER A WONDER.

Willard Melke pitched for the Seals, and his work was high class on the mound, but methinks if anybody else but Buck Weaver had been at shortstop the Oaks would have had a million runs.

Twice he jumped across the diamond and cut off base hits with a marvelous stop. In one of these stops he started out, Tiedemann to Cutshaw, and Schmidt got over. That made three more, or a total of six, which was plenty. Here's the tale in tabulated form:

HOW THE SEALS GATHERED.

Disaster came to John Flater in the third inning like this: Holland, the Virginian, fanned, but Schmidt piled a single to left, and was safe at second when Cutshaw dropped Pearce's throw to cut off a steal. Melke, after having two strikes called, was passed. Hunk Shaw followed with a scratch double to center that bounded past Zacher and Schmidt romped. Melke getting to third. Mohler laced one far out to right center and two more were over, three in all for the round.

In the seventh inning John had more troubles and Harry threw out to the hook. Smith, who isn't a howling success in pulling the pellet, was passed and got us to second when John Tiedemann floundered all over the lot trying to head off a throw of Wares' on a poke of Holland.

Smith then hit to left and Maggart went through a Hunk Shaw performance, that is, he woefully misjudged the drive, Schmidt getting a double and Smith a run.

Melke was given another pass, filling up the bags. Shaw then hit to Cutty, and he winged Melke out at second instantly was over. To the bench for John.

JUST ANOTHER FOR MAC.

LOS ANGELES, July 29.—The Port-Cliffs clowns put over a repeater today, whipping out one of the comedies of the day. The Angels with all the dallying that a hard-pressed second story worker might employ in dropping a really amateurish potental's knot.

For seven innings "Duffy" Flater held out against the none too certain Bill Steen, and in the seventh the smallest Albin pitched was put out of the run. Blue was his portion on the wire shot him on the elbow with a pitched ball. Yates worked in the eighth and ninth and with this bird's appearance on the race deck, the hand-to-hand a burlesque. Seven hits and six runs in these last two rounds for the champions.

Diamond Dust

Flater wasn't wholly responsible for the loss of the game, though we will have to admit that he didn't pitch the best ball in the rear pinches.

In the third inning Cutshaw made a boot that was costly and John helped along with a pass. In the seventh inning Flater made a cost out and John helped along again with another pass.

San Francisco had another pitcher in harness yesterday, a man named Hester from Texas and from the way he heaved them in practice will get a tryout shortly.

Manager Wolverton has a bunch of youngsters warming up every day and says he will give 'em all a chance to show if they have anything. A good idea this for all the managers to follow for we are still far from good yesterday around the bay and another Lewis, Melke, Baum or Vitt might be discovered.

It was said at baseball headquarters yesterday that already bids are being offered for the service of Buck Weaver of the Seals and that several of the big clubs are interested.

A perusal of the official bulletin of the national association that Chicago holds an optional release on the youngster and it such is a fact then Ewing will lose a big chunk of money, for Weaver is truly a sensation.

McGrevey came in for a panning from the Moherites a couple of times but outside of that his work was alright. Hester is not unfamiliar with that kind of work, and twice yesterday he went out that way that would have been easy picking for Issy Hoffman. At that the big fellow is willing and looks as if he will be a help to the Seals when he rounds to real western form.

BRANDS CHISHOLM AN ARCH SLAYER

Official Believes Him Responsible for Killing of Minna Passi.

SANTA ROSA, July 29.—"The criminal of a century" is the way Clarence Lee, district attorney, now describes L. C. Chisholm, whom Lee sent to prison for life for killing Van K. Drouillard in a tent at Fort Ross.

"Since Chisholm came to this state ten years ago," the district attorney said, "he seems to have given himself over to crime."

"I have turned over all the evidence in my possession to District Attorney Boyd of Marin county. I shall assist him in every way possible to fix the murder of Minna Passi upon Chisholm, for I am convinced he is guilty of that crime, too."

Lee and Boyd will have a conference in a few days.

It is expected that Mrs. Drouillard will come from Salt Lake to arrange for her husband's body being removed from the potters' field and given a more decent burial. She will also endeavor to recover any effects he may have had.

So far all of his belongings in the possession of the coroner is the clothing found in the tent where he was slain.

SAN RAFAEL, July 29.—Additional developments in the Tamalpais murder mystery failed to be forthcoming yesterday.

The authorities still believe that the body found on the mountain last February was that of Minna Passi of Sacramento, who was last seen alive in L. C. Chisholm's company.

Search is being made in several sections of California for evidence which will establish the identity of the dead and also connect Chisholm with the crime.

Sheriff Keating says that it will be several days before witnesses would be able to arrive to identify the clothing of the woman.

BUT TWO RESPOND TO ANCIENT ROLL

Pacific Lodge Members Hold
Interesting Reunion and Banquet.

On Thursday evening the members of Pacific Lodge No. 1, A. O. U. W., and their families held a reception and banquet in their club room in honor of the thirty-fourth anniversary of the founding of the lodge.

A short address of welcome was made by Charles G. Reed, one of the charter members, who acted as toastmaster of the evening.

At the conclusion of the banquet Mr. Reed called upon the recorder to call the roll of the first set of officers, who were installed July 26, 1877. But two of the nine answered "Here" to their names, the balance having answered to the roll call of death many years ago. After the minutes of the first meeting had been read he called upon Mr. Jordan, who related the vast amount of good that had been accomplished by the order since its inception.

TELLS OF WORK.

Grand Recorder Spencer, who was the next speaker, told in figures of the work done in the past, showing that Pacific Lodge alone had disposed in death and sick benefits almost a quarter of a million dollars, while that of the grand lodge of California exceeded $16,000,000, and the supreme lodge figures totaled over $180,000,000.

Grand Overseer J. J. Bennetts of San Jose was the next speaker, and in his remarks dwelt on the necessity of loyalty to the order.

W. J. Petersen of this city, the present grand master, was the last speaker, and in his address pointed out what had been accomplished in the past and what could be accomplished in the future.

MUSICAL PROGRAM.

The musical portion of the program consisted of soprano solo by Miss Hermisson, a tenor solo by William J. Oaks and several selections by the G. A. R. "boys' choir." They were encored and responded each time. This followed named made up the "choir": R. Thomas, Dr. S. E. Chapman, Peter Linn, Ogden Mallory, W. R. Barton and R. G. O'Brien, leader. The committee in charge of the affair was J. S. Gilmore, A. H. McKown, J. F. Walker, H. C. Cantwell, A. L. Brown, G. Folte and A. Copeland. During the evening Master Workman J. F. Walker was presented with a watch-fob ornamented with a gold emblem of the order, the presentation speech being made by W. J. Petersen. Letters of regret for inability to attend were read from W. H. Barnes and D. H. Simberg of San Francisco and Percy S. Kling of Napa.

JORDAN'S FRIENDS
COME TO DEFENSE

Deny Rumor That He Pur-
of Death.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Relatives of Joe H. Jordan, the young attorney who disappeared from his home in Sea Fox, and who is believed to have been drowned, yesterday indignantly denied the rumor that he has purposely left the impression that he had been swept overboard because his accounts were in such a tangled condition that it was impossible for him to set himself straight with his clients.

James H. Jordan, brother of the missing man, said yesterday that a search through his brother's papers showed no evidence of any premeditated disappearance. Jordan added:

"My brother had no reason for willingly disappearing. It has been said that some of his clients paid him money which should have been turned in to the courts and that he made no such disposal of these sums. If that is so it is peculiar that none of these clients has come forward and made complaint or attempted to see how his case stands. If they have made any such payments they must have receipts or canceled checks to show, and I am anxiously waiting for their appearance. My brother had such connections here that it would not be necessary for him to leave this locality in order to avoid paying whatever sum might be due any persons."

"I am certain that my brother met his death by being swept overboard by the boom of the Sea Fox. I nearly met the same fate on that boat a short time ago, and I can understand how he might have been stunned by the boom and thereby rendered unable to save himself."

John W. Cameron, chief clerk of the Humboldt Savings Bank, where Jordan kept his account, said yesterday that he had not given out for publication any interview which reflected on Jordan. When asked how the missing man's account stood with the bank, Cameron declined to say, on the ground that such matters were confidential.

Launches were engaged yesterday by Jordan's brother and his brother-in-law, Jerome H. White, for the purpose of searching for the body of the missing man, but he was not found in a week or so. Application will be made for letters of probate on his estate, and his safe deposit box opened for the purpose of discovering his financial condition at the time of his disappearance.

M'NAMARA'S ATTORNEY
ON WAY TO MICHIGAN

LOS ANGELES, July 29.—Le Compte Davis of Los Angeles, one of the attorneys defending the McNamara brothers, is in San Francisco while Joseph Scott, another of the lawyers representing the alleged dynamite plotters, is on the way to Detroit. Both the brothers and the attorney for the McNamara were arrested.

Scott is expected to be away about two weeks, while Davis is due to return here Monday morning. When he and his attorney got into the courtroom in June, with court to the indictments against A. P. Maple, F. Ira Bender and Bert H. Connors, accused of having conspired to dynamite the county courthouse, the attorney who has been in the hospital for nearly two weeks undergoing treatment for nervous prostration, was said today to be slightly improved.

When you feel lazy, out of sorts and yawn a good deal in the daytime, you can charge it to a torpid liver which has allowed you to get by on less sleep. HERBINE cures all disorders produced by an inactive liver. It strengthens the organs, cleanses the bowels and puts the system in good healthy condition. It is sold by Winkhart's drug store, 1001 Washington street.

COLE TOLD PLANS TO SLAY WOMAN

Ben Hunt Made Confidante of Crazed Man One Week Ago.

SACRAMENTO, July 29.—That an insane desire for supposed revenge was the motive back of the killing of Anna M. Dudley by Sidney Cole is established through a story told to detectives of the Sacramento police department by Ben Hunt, pitcher on the Sacramento team of the Pacific Coast league.

Hunt positively identified the body of Cole as that of the man who, a week before the crime, told him in Capitol park that he was hanging around the park to kill "a woman who worked in the capitol." He also said he was going to kill because she made fun of him and cracked jokes at his expense in a Chinese doctor's office in San Francisco.

Cole said he could not stand her taunts and in addition charged that the "woman he was going to kill" had conspired with the Chinese doctor and drugged him with some herb tea to get rid of him. In a rambling fashion Cole said he was taken to Southern California by them before he regained his senses and when he realized that he had been made a fool of by the woman and the Chinese he decided he would kill them.

Continuing his story, he said he was often the only man at the table in the doctor's place and the women, and especially the one he was "going to kill," took particular delight in fibbing him, poking fun at his appearance and nagging him about his record as a soldier.

Hunt left the man lying on the grass, thinking him a crank who had no intention of carrying out his threats.

It is thought that Cole deliberately planned to escape and make his way back to San Francisco, murder the Chinese doctor and the women patients who had amused themselves at his expense.

RAILROADS FIGHT
RATE REDUCTION

Lower Express Tolls Meet Opposition of Western Lines.

CHICAGO, July 29.—Leading railroads throughout the country are preparing to combat with all the forces at their command the widespread demand for a general slash in express rates.

Their position, which heretofore has been a subject for speculation, was made clear today at the second day's hearing of express charges and express company methods before the sub-committee of railroad commissioners representing the National Association of Railroad Commissioners.

P. S. Eustis, passenger traffic manager of the Burlington railroad, declared emphatically that his company will resist all attempts to force the lower scale of prices upon express carriers.

"This agitation about express rates is a very serious matter," said Eustis in the course of his remarks. "It looks to us as if the express companies are trying to throw it all off to the railroads. The apparent excessiveness of express earnings is due altogether to the fact that express companies have compelled the railroads to haul express matter at an adequate rate of pay. We have been trying for years to find a remedy for the situation."

Keen interest was manifested when O. P. Gathlin, a member of the sub-committee, read a report handed to him by W. L. Wolf, rate expert of the Illinois Railroad and Warehouse Commission, which showed that the Great Northern Express Company made a profit of 900 per cent during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1909.

16 BODIES ARE FOUND ON MAINE

No Hope of Identifying Any of the Remains Discovered on Battleship.

HAVANA, July 29.—A number of bodies recovered from the wreck of the battleship Maine is officially placed at 16. All are now inclosed in seven metallic caskets, which lie on the main deck adjacent to the captain's cabin.

There is no hope for the identification of any.

A search of the Junior officers' quarters resulted in the discovery of several revolvers, swords and other equipment, while near the wardrobe was found a notebook belonging to Lieutenant Jenkins. The contents of the book are illegible.

EXCITING GAME CAUSES
DEATH OF BALL FAN

PHILADELPHIA, July 29.—While rooting for the Athletics during the exciting double-header ball game with Detroit yesterday Dr. William B. Evans of Germantown suddenly collapsed and died soon afterward at the Homeopathic hospital. Dr. Evans was an enthusiastic rooter for the home team and followed the fortunes of the team closely.

Yesterday afternoon his interest in the contest grew so great in the eleventh inning of the first game that he stood upon a box to root for the Athletics. In result of that position when the second game was commenced. During the first inning when the Athletics made two runs and while his enthusiasm was most intense, he suddenly staggered and dropped from the box. Dr. Evans was 33 years old.

GIRL SENT TO ASYLUM.

SANTA ROSA, July 29.—Daria Garzoli, a young girl of Petaluma, was sent to the insane asylum at Napa by Judge Emmet Seawell yesterday. The case was one of the most pitiable that has ever come before the local courts, but Dr. J. W. Jesse and Dr. G. W. Mallory, the medical advisers of the court, stated their belief that in time the girl could be permanently restored to health. The girl is 19 years of age, but is hardly developed as much as a child of 12.

RICHARD BARRY
LOSES IN COURT

Judge Refuses to Reinstate
Author in Players' Club.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Richard Barry, the author, recently expelled from the Players' Club because of a story in which he discussed the stage in terms resented by the club, will not be reinstated by the courts. Justice Geigerich has dismissed Barry's application for a writ compelling the club to restore him to membership, and imposed the costs of the suit upon him.

"If the members of the club resented the sweeping and derogatory assertions he (Barry) made concerning their profession," reads the decision, "far better is it from the court to hold that such resentment was groundless. In fact, it would be that the spirit and tone of the relator's reply, as well as the original article complained of, abundantly warrants the sentiment he seems to have aroused among his associates."

DISSENSION SPLITS
TOBACCO COMPANY

Organization of Protective Committees Opposed
in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, July 29.—The organization in New York by holders of bonds and preferred stock of the American Tobacco Company of protective committees, is opposed by certain St. Louis representatives of the American Tobacco Company. St. Louis brokers are puzzled. Many of them regard the protective committees in the light of an independent or insurance.

Paul Brown of St. Louis, managing director of the American Tobacco Company, said:

"I am satisfied the so-called protective committees have no authority from the board of directors. It may be they are planning to oppose the plan of reorganization which the officers are working on for submission to the federal court. I shall not send any of my bonds or stocks to the committees and will advise my friends not to do so until they learn more about what they propose to do."

A considerable amount of the securities of the American Tobacco Company are held in St. Louis.

ROOS RISKS LIFE
TO SAVE PET DOG

Crawls Under Train to Get Three-Pound Canine.

OMAHA, July 29.—L. L. Roos of San Francisco risked his life to save a three-pound dog from the wheels of a moving passenger train yesterday and narrowly escaped being run over himself. The canine, a registered Pomeranian, he explained afterward, cost him $500.

Roos, who, with his wife, was a passenger on the San Francisco Overland Limited, got off at the station here and took the dog from the baggage coach for exercise. While his attention was engrossed temporarily in contemplation the pup wandered under a moving train. The owner promptly plunged under the car before the astonished eyes of other passengers and employees, picked up the frightened dog and, with much difficulty, crawled back to safety.

Roos said that he made a special trip to England to buy the dog for his wife, who is fond of this vest-pocket breed. He said Mrs. Roos has seven now in her kennel in San Francisco. Roos got the pup from the Marlin kennel and had him insured at Lloyd's for $250. The dog is one year old and is registered in the English kennel club as Marlin Oso.

Commencing August 1, Casa del Rey, Santa Cruz, will install American plan. Rates $4 and up per day.
